Hint Early Move To Complete Freeway Here

HELPING EXTEND FIREMEN'S INVITATION

ALL ABOARD—Getting ready to join hundreds of community residents in trekking to Burgess Park Gym for the 17th annual Fireman's Ball Saturday night—and incidentally aiding the Menlo Park Fire District Firemen's association by displaying an invitation to attend—are four members of the staffs of Linfield Oaks insurance companies. Symbolically "welcoming aboard" the pretty delegation is Captain Dan Hollywood of the Fire District staff; girls are, top, left to right, Jeanne Rimmer, American Insurance company; Bobbie Edmunds, Prudential; and (lower, left to right) Carol Hotchkiss, Allstate, and Sue Frazier, American Hardware Mutual. The dance, which will continue from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will feature music by Jack Fisher's orchestra. All proceeds will go to the Firemen's association's Widows' and Orphans' Fund. —Recorder photo.

Their First Game Here

BEARS COME HOME FRIDAY

Menlo-Atherton high school's varsity football team, a stranger in its own land since the school first opened in 1951, hosts San Mateo high school varsity at the Ringwood avenue gridiron tomorrow afternoon. Kickoff time is 3:15 p.m.

The Bears heretofore have played all "home" games at Sequoia high school's Terremere field in Redwood City; this is the first time they have played a Peninsula Athletic League game at their own campus.

The public is entitled to join in cheering the locals, from grandstands which have been set up for the game. There will be no admission charge.

For full information on tomorrow's tilt see the recreation page in this issue of the Recorder.

Menlo Park Civic Center Plans Face Study in Special City Council Session

An effort to consolidate plans for future development of the Menlo Park civic center area will be made by the city council on Nov. 15, it was decided this week.

On that evening, the council will meet with its various public boards and commissions and with other interested groups to discuss use of the area. Mayor Charles P Burgess suggested the meeting Tuesday night at the council's in formal session and urged that all interested persons attend the discussion.

The city hopes, he said, before the Nov. 15 date, to choose an architect to design the overall master plan for the area.

Once the uses for the land and the types of buildings proposed are established, it was indicated, the city then can proceed to set up priorities and decide how to finance specific projects.

Along this line, the council also decided to invite Richard Graves, former candidate for state governor, to attend the same meeting and explain the possibilities of a lease-purchase agreement as one means of financing such undertakings.

Formal Hearing On Street Plan To Be Scheduled

A formal hearing date on the master plan for Menlo Park's major streets and highways will be chosen when the council meets next Tuesday in formal session, it was indicated this week.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess said Tuesday night that he hopes noncontroversial portions of the plan can be speedily adopted in this manner. Such "hot" issues as location of a new crossing of the railroad—proposed as an extension of Willow road or Middle avenue—also could be given full consideration and acted upon as soon as possible, he said.

Councilman William R. Lawson last week called for early action on the matter, hanging fire since introduction of the city's overall master plan proposal in 1952, and City Manager C. L. Longson this week underscored necessity for getting the new street proposals on the record. He cited possibility of buildings encroaching on the proposed wider right-of-way for Middlefield road as an example of the need for urgency.

Proposals earlier this year to establish as part of the master plan an extension of Willow road to El Camino Real via an underpass at the railroad met heavy opposition from residents of the Linfield Oaks area. During informal discussions, an alternate plan to extend Middle avenue eastward across the tracks was proposed.

Longson also revealed this week that he has received papers from the state for the city's application for $5000 to be used on street engineering studies. This amount is the city's share under an appropriation passed by the recent session of the state legislature.

'Wing' Roads To Help Clear Willow Snarl

Efforts to ease traffic congestion at the intersection of Willow road and the Bayshore highway through installation of another left-turn phase in the traffic-signal pattern this week proved fruitless, City Manager C. L. Longson told Menlo Park city councilmen Tuesday night.

Representatives of the state highway commission, Longson said, did, however, add some words of encouragement for residents of Belle Haven east of the thoroughfare. They reported that the "wings" of the cloverleaf interchange now under construction permitting right turns on and off Bayshore, were being rushed to completion ahead of the balance of the structure. Longson estimated these could be in service within two weeks.

Proposal for the additional left-turn phase in the traffic signals was put forward at last week's meeting of the city council when Belle Haven residents appeared to protest the traffic snarl at the intersection, rendered more critical with recent blocking of all other streets connectiong their area with the Bayshore.

When approached with the idea, Longson said, the state highway experts pointed out that such an installation would require special equipment. It could not be completed in less than six months, they said, by which time the cloverleaf itself will be in operation.

A further effort to clear up the snarl that frequently results at the intersection when motorists attempt to turn left off Willow was indicated by Longson.

The traffic engineers had told him, he said, that they would consider banning all left turns off Willow.

This, they suggested, would speed traffic across the intersection. It would require those desiring to make a left turn to proceed straight across the highway, turn around at the first opportunity and come back to make a right turn, utilizing the new wing roads

Work Could Begin in January; Steps Taken to Clear Route

BULLETIN

Definite word on whether the Bayshore Freeway project will be continued through southern San Mateo county early next year will be forthcoming from Sacramento next week. State highway commissioners are currently in session, discussing their budget for the coming fiscal year.

This was reported late yesterday by Herbert Miles, assistant district engineer of Division IV, state department of highways.

Miles pointed out that, although the current budget study session in the state capital is for the period from July 1, 1956, bids can be called as early as November of this year and contracts awarded as early as Jan. 1 of next year, six months ahead of actual allocation of the budget.

* * *

Hopes for early completion of Bayshore freeway through Menlo Park were revived this week as state right-of-way agents began preliminaries to clearing land along the freeway in East Palo Alto.

State highway commissioners were meeting in Sacramento today, to decide whether to expend funds in this area in the immediate future, the Recorder has learned.

First hint of acceleration of the highway building program came early this week as some business establishments in the vicinity of University avenue and Bayshore highway received notices to vacate their buildings by Jan. 31, 1956.

Not all occupants of buildings purchased during recent months by the state were asked to vacate, it appeared. Among occupants not asked to move was the Menlo Park Fire District, station 2 of which has been purchased by the state.

Though not attempting to preguess what the highway commission would do yesterday, a spokesman for the division of highways Division IV office in San Francisco early this week declared that:

"In all probability the whole Bayshore freeway project in San Manteo county will be stepped up. In case it gets to be a reality, we don't want to be blocked by having occupied buildings in the path of actual construction."

TEXT OF NOTICES

The notices to vacate were signed by B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer, and by Byron Cartwell, rental property manager of the division. They stated:

"We wish to bring to your attention at this time the fact that an accelerated highway construction program will necessitate the state having to give you notice to vacate the subject property by Jan. 31, 1956, as the improvements will have to be cleared from the right of-way at that time."

The Menlo Park Fire District, meanwhile, would adopt a "wait and see" policy, according to Chief George Carter.

The new station, however, is scheduled to be completed early in March.

17 Persons Hurt In Weekend Bayshore Crashes

Two traffic accidents near Marsh road and two others near Willow road, on Bayshore highway, last weekend accounted for injuries to 17 persons, the California highway patrol reported.

Congestion on the highway, which was augmented by crowds returning from the Stanford-UCLA football game and, further north, leaving Bay Meadows race track, figured in the "chain reaction" crashes Saturday. None of the accidents were due to left turns.

Sunday accidents also, the highway patrol said, were caused primarily by traffic congestion.

Most seriously injured was Henry C. Lutke Jr., 23, of San Mateo, whose auto apparently struck the rear of a pickup truck on the highway near Sonoma place. He was unconscious when taken to Palo Alto hospital Saturday. The pickup truck, which was overturned in the crash, was driven by John F. Cunningham, 27, of Sunyvale. Both were treated for minor injuries.

A third car which figured in the crash was operated by Ray Carter, 54, of Mountain View. He suffered slight injuries.

In a crash north of the Belle Haven underpass a short time later, Joseph Goss, 26, of San Francisco was cut on the back of the head in a crash which resulted, the CHP reported, when he crossed the double line to avoid hitting slow-moving vehicles ahead.

Instead, he collided with an auto driven by Kenneth Denbow, 20, of San Bruno. Denbow was treated for forehead cuts.

In turn, the latter driver's car collided with one being driven by Jorge N. Pila, 27, of Redwood City. Pila was not hurt.

SUNDAY CRASH

In the Sunday crash in Menlo Park Philip Rocks, 47, of San Jose was bruised about the chest when his car became involved in a three-car rear-ender. His daughter Shirley, 12, was bumped on the head and another driver in the same accident, Max Schwarz, 35, of San Francisco, was treated for a skinne leg and bruised chest.

The next Sunday accident occurred north of Marsh road on the highway. Four cars were involved. Casimo Liguori, 58, was held in Sequoia hospital for observation; Earl P. Scott, 81, of San Jose was treated for a cut elbow, and Charles Facchino, 44 and Carl Inzelone, 46, both of Santa Clara, suffered minor injuries.

Only driver residing in this area was Calvin Wells, 45, of 1901 Menalto avenue, Menlo Park.

And in yet another mishap near Marsh road Sunday Tomasa Ibarra, 30, of San Jose was slightly hurt when her car collided with an auto driven by Lynwood Carter, 20, of 1243 Hoover street, Menlo Park.

Girl, 5, Struck By Auto Here

Five-year-old Alicia Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Jones of 441 Gilbert street, incurred minor injuries Saturday when she stepped from behind a parked car into the path of a moving vehicle, Menlo Park police report.

Driver of the car which struck the girl was Herman Nick Simon, 47, of Palo Alto. His car skidded 12 feet before stopping, police said.

Two Hurt in Crash Of Autos on ECR

Two Stanford university students were taken to Palo Alto hospital for examination and treatment of minor injuries Friday evening, after an auto being driven by a fraternity brother crashed into the rear of a vehicle waiting to make a left turn off El Camino Real.

The mishap occurred at El Camino Real and Valparaiso avenue. Driver of the auto in which the students were riding was Gary Lee Gouvea, 19, resident at the Phi Delta Theta house on campus.

His two passengers were Milton Bonzell, 19, who collected a bump on the head and Dale Doty, also 19, who mentioned a sore side after the accident.

Driver of the other car involved was M. H. Haggard, 40, of Seattle. He stopped for a left turn, and turning signals were working, he told officers.

UN Founding Commemoration Date at Hand

Commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations will reach a climax here Monday with planting of a symbolic native oak at Nealon park at 2 p.m. Congressman J. Arthur Younger will give the feature address.

The actual planting will be done by children of the area who were 10 years old during the week beginning June 16—United Nations week throughout the nation.

The Oct. 24 observance has been officially noted in a proclamation by Mayor Charles P. Burgess, in which he called on all area residents to note the "birthday" of the UN.

The oak sapling, donated by a local nursery, will be identified with a bronze plaque which will also be placed at the location.

2-Story Building Start Seen For Next Month

Construction of a $110,000, 10,000-square-foot, two-story store and office building at Santa Cruz avenue and Curtis street is expected to start next month, it was announced Tuesday by Architect Peter Kump, designer of the building.

The announcement followed approval of plans for the structure, by the Menlo Park planning commission. Dr. M. W. Forsythe is owner of the land on which the building will rise.

Kump showed plans which indicated that the building will feature a gable roof above the second-story offices, with a balcony extending around the structure.

When originally built, the offices and stores will have movable partitions, to meet the requirements of particular tenants as they are contacted.

A landscaped promenade on the first floor will allow access to all stores in the building without leaving the premises, Kump said.

County Board Acts On FD Annexation

County board of supervisors is expected to hold final hearing on annexation of 70 acres in East Palo Alto to the Menlo Park Fire District on Nov. 15, informed sources at the county courthouse said this week.

The area between Willow road and University Village, east of Bay road, includes the Flood Park estates subdivision and adjacent industrial land. Proposal to have it annexed has already been okayed by the fire district's commissioners.

Freezer Burns; Damage Is $300

An estimated $300 damage to contents resulted when an electric deep freeze short-circuited Monday at the J. B. Leiberman home at 355 Menlo Oaks drive, Menlo Park Fire District firemen report.

The firemen were called to the home at 7:07 a.m. Damage was confined to mechanical parts of the machine.

School Unification

More Plans on Splitting Sequoia District To Be Aired in Meeting Next Tuesday

Hearings on four additional proposals for re-cutting the Sequoia High School District will be the subject of a public hearing set for 8 p.m. Oct. 25 at Tierra Linda school in San Carlos, it was announced this week by County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey.

The hearing will be the second of a series. First, held at Hillview school last month before the County School Reorganization committee, dealt with four proposals affecting unification of schools in the Menlo Park-Atherton area.

The four proposals to be discussed Tuesday include:

1. Unification of San Carlos and Belmont Elementary School Districts, and that portion of the Sequoia Union High School District lying within their boundaries;
2. Unification of San Carlos and Belmont Elementary School Districts, and Carlmont high school;
3. Unification of Redwood City, Greersburg (Woodside), Portola and Las Lomitas Elementary School Districts and Sequoia high school;
4. Unification of Menlo Park and Ravenswood Elementary School Districts and Menlo-Atherton high school.

The latter three proposals, it was indicated, may be considered a part of the same proposition, since new school agencies resulting from such unifications would not conflict with each other.

Councilmen Eye New Annexation Of County Land

Menlo Park councilmen and planning commissioners this week gave their informal approval to tentative plans for a subdivision facing Lemon avenue on land that is expected soon to be annexed to the city.

The subdivision, as planned by the developers, Stendell and O'Neil, would contain 11 homesites, each of 10,000 square feet or more. Name on the tentative map indicated the section would be known as Menlo Woods, with a cul-de-sac titled Wood lane serving the rear parcels.

Proposal to annex the area to Menlo Park was approved by the San Mateo county boundaries commission October 6 and is expected to be brought before the city soon for formal action.

$158 Fine Levied On Driving Charge

Robert O. Cheek, 65-year-old Redwood City carpenter, was fined a total of $158 in San Mateo county municipal court Tuesday after being found guilty of drunken driving. He had been arrested by Atherton police Sunday evening, as he was proceeding south on El Camino Real.

School Trustee's Car Figures In Mishap

An auto operated by James M. Black, 33, Menlo Park School District trustee who resides at 1090 Creek drive, was involved Friday in a minor accident at Willow road and the Bay road connection bypassing construction at Bayshore highway, Menlo Park police report.

Black was westbound on Willow when his auto came into contact with one entering Willow from the bypass, operated by Ida Virges, 34, of 1100 Sevier avenue. Neither driver was injured and both cars were driven from the scene.

Pioneer County Highway Patrol Officer Succumbs at Wheel of His Auto Here

The second person in the past two weeks to suffer a fatal heart attack at the wheel of an automobile in Menlo Park was Chester Charles Kreiss, 59, one of the county's pioneer highway patrol officers, whose death occurred early Wednesday morning shortly after he had brought his car to a stop at the intersection of Orange and Valparaiso avenues.

Menlo Park firemen, called to the scene, were unable to revive him with resuscitator treatment, and Dr. E. W. Fredell of the Menlo Medical Center pronounced him dead at 3:30 a.m. Witness to the scene was Mrs. Norbert Sempier of 1880 Valparaiso avenue who called the fire district after observing Kreiss slump over the steering wheel.

Kreiss, who has been retired since 1946, had been visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clifton W. Kreiss at their home at 1475 San Antonio street, and had left them to return to his Pescadero ranch only 15 minutes before suffering the heart attack.

He had been under the care of a doctor during the past five years for a heart condition, but his death came unexpectedly, according to Mrs. Chester Kreiss, who said he had appeared to be in good health during his visit.

He is survived by his widow, Neola, with whom he had lived at the Pescadero ranch since his retirement from the highway patrol. Other survivors include Mrs. Hazel Ohlemutz of San Francisco, a sister, and Mrs. Lena Bozzo of Millbrae, an aunt. He was also the brother of the late Elgin Kreiss of Redwood City.

Kreiss was a member of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen, having joined the San Mateo county highway patrol in 1923 as a motorcycle officer. He was with the county patrol when it was incorporated into the state highway system in 1930.

California State Highway Patrol Captain John Kennedy, in reviewing Kreiss' many years as an officer, said of him that "he was a capable and conscientious officer and well thought of by fellow officers."

Kreiss was retired in 1946 as the result of severe leg injuries suffered in 1930 in a collision with a bus while on his way to the scene of a reported accident. He had never fully recovered from the injuries.

A native of Portola, Calif. Kreiss had moved to Redwood City in 1919, where he resided with his wife until 1947. Since his retirement the couple had lived at the ranch near Pescadero. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services are scheduled for 1:45 p.m. this afternoon at the Lavng and Tinney chapel at 717 Jefferson avenue, Redwood City. The presiding minister of the Pescadero Congregational Community church is expected to officiate. Interment will take place at 3 p.m. at Golden Gate National cemetery in San Bruno.

A similar fatality occurred in Menlo Park Oct. 10 when Ernest Henry Eisenzopf, 62, of 960 Roble avenue, died following a heart attack at the steering wheel of his car less than a block from his home.

Visiting Duck Is Going Crusading —But Won't Someone Give Him a Name?

Atherton's forthcoming United Crusade drive now has a mascot. But the mascot needs a name.

The mascot — a pin-tail duck found injured, early Tuesday, in the swimming pool at the home of Mrs. Judith Zellerbach, 5 Fennwood drive—wasn't one of the 283 bay area agencies officially designated as a beneficiary of the United Crusade, but he's been patched up and will be around to help, in turn, in making the drive a success.

All elementary school children residing in Atherton are urged to submit names for the duck, Mrs. Zellerbach said yesterday; the name, somehow, should express the spirit of the United Crusade. Winner will be presented with a prize donated by Shreve and Pryce sport shop.

Anyone of qualified age should contact Mrs. Zellerbach, DA 2-7058 or Mrs. William Bancroft, DA 2-5727, before the actual start of the drive Oct. 28.

Meanwhile, the unnamed pintail is making friends with Mrs. Zellerbach and her children. He's got over his wild fears and, although permanently injured, is willing to aid others as a focus of attention for the coming Crusade.

Mrs. Bancroft is chairman for the Crusade drive and Mrs. Joseph Parker is vice chairman.

DRIVE LEADERS WORK FOR 'CRUSADE'

TRAINING UNDERWAY—Getting ready for the forthcoming United Crusade drive in Menlo Park, area chairmen last week got together with city Chairman Myron Alexander (left) for a discussion of how the city will be covered. Area leaders who participated in the training session, held at Menlo Park city council chambers in civic center, included (seated, left to right) Mrs. Philip J. Eldredge, Mrs. Charles Merriam, Mrs. G. Milton Ellis and Mrs. George Long and, standing, Mrs. Elton F. Martin, Mrs. Donald Kennedy, Mrs. David Kirk, Mrs. Fred Rice, Mrs. George Reid and Mrs. Anthony Donofrio.

New Radio Useful In Atherton, Too

Atherton police department's new radio hookup, like that of Menlo Park, is already paying for itself.

This was indicated last week when, within an hour after it was reported stolen, an auto taken from the Atherton depot was found in Palo Alto.

Palo Alto police officers had monitored the call concerning the stolen car, although the call originated at Menlo Park headquarters.

Atherton police Chief Leroy Hubbard said this week that "cruising" during the past week has failed to turn up any "dead spots" in the town.

The stolen auto is owned by Mrs. Patricia D. Allesandro of 1055 Ringwood road, Menlo Park.

Police were still seeking the thieves, as of yesterday.

'Public Relations' Advancements Told

Technological advancements by the railroad industry have been great, but even greater progress is being made in the field of public and human relations, James G. Shea, general public relations manager for Southern Pacific, said here yesterday.

Shea told a class in t ransportation at the Menlo School and College that Southern Pacific's recent merger of its public relations and passenger traffic departments was a forward step designed to give greater importance and emphasis to its public relations efforts.

Shea told a class in transportaclass by John D. Russell, director of Menlo School and College, and was introduced by Vaile Andrus, Menlo Park councilman and retired assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific.

MENLO-ATHERTON Girl Scout district will meet at 9:45 a.m. Monday with Mrs. Charles Bubb, 2049 Sharon road.

Alameda Planning Hallowe'en Event

The Alameda Merchants association this week announced their annual Las Lomitas area Hallowe'en party will be held Monday evening, October 31.

As in the past, highlights of the evening will be a bicycle parade and costume contest, with free hotdogs, coffee and ice cream served during the course of the festivities.

Lots of prizes and surprises are in store ,association members promise. Now under way is a poster contest, being handled through the schools, to announce the program.

Philip C. Pendleton Gets New Appointment

Robert S. Youngberg, manager of the Western division of American Sisalkraft corporation, announced that Philip C. Pendleton of Menlo Park, has been appointed assistant manager in charge of sales promotion.

Pendleton was formerly sales representative in the Bay area and has been with American Sisalkraft corporation since 1948. From 1949 to 1953, he resided in Sacramento as sales representative in the Central valley area.

American Sisalkraft corporation, Youngberg disclosed, has recently enlarged its Western division headquarters at 55 New Montgomery street, San Francisco.

CARELESS BURNING was ascribed by firemen to be the cause of three minor fires in the Menlo Park fire district during the past week. One occurred at Polhemus and Euclid avenues in Atherton on Sunday, another at 240 Daphne way, East Palo Alto, and the third at Sutherland and Ridgeview drives in Atherton.

Pioneer Enterprise:

Menlo Meat Market to Close After 40 Years Of Business Success at Same Address

One of Menlo Park's oldest continuously-operating retail businesses, the Menlo Meat market at 1162 El Camino Real, closed its doors for the last time last week, marking the end of a successful business venture that had its beginnings 40 years ago.

The store was first opened by the late Harry Doughty, who operated it until his death in 1950. Since then it has been under the management of his widow and Mrs. Doughty's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Redding of 1357 Laurel street.

The market still retains many old-time features and fixtures — mostly as decoration, nowadays, since modern refrigerating and meat-cutting machinery was installed long ago. It was the second food store to be established in the infant community of Menlo Park.

True, Mrs. Doughty recalled, there were several business establishments. There was the Duff and Doyle general store, which did business at El Camino Real and Santa Cruz avenue until it was razed, to permit highway widening, in 1940. There was a livery stable across the highway. There were several saloons.

It was in this community that Doughty, who had but recently arrived from England, decided to take his chances in business.

A meat market in 1915, an inspection of the shop will show, had many features which aren't normally ofund in butcher shops today.

High up, along the walls, "meat hooks" were suspended, from which cured hams ,poultry, and other items were suspended. The hooks are still there, though they have not been used for many years.

Refrigeration was not to be found in most butcher shops before World War I; Doughty had to import blocks of ice from a Redwood City plant to keep his "walk-in" boxes cold.

The old ice chests, above the boxes, still exist.

It was in 1918 that Mrs. Doughty first joined the firm—at that time, as a bookkeeper, needed because the Menlo Meat market had found itself with the job of supplying a large part of Camp Fremont's demands.

Four years later, she and Doughty were married.

Meanwhile, the store progressed. Doughty purchased two delivery trucks—one, as early as 1917—and established routes, serving households as far away as Woodside and Los Altos.

Shortly after World War I he purchased his main refrigerating machinery—a huge, complicated mechanism with large flywheels, brass dials and a name plate which lists the maker and date: "Cyclops Iron Works, San Francisco, 1917."

The same machine is still in operation today.

It was in 1922, also, that a "town character" came to be associated with the market. He was Walter Scott, known as "Scotty," who arrived as an itinerant looking for a few days' work but who stayed for 25 years until his death in 1947.

"Scotty" became well known in the community for many things, but one of the most popular devices with which he favored younger customers were his "boats."

WIDE CIRCULATION

These were made from the breast-bones of turkeys and, Mrs. Doughty recalls, there must have been at least one of these in every house in town at one time or another.

Scotty also made picture frames. In 1936 he made a set of four of the latter, in which were placed portraits of Will Rogers in various poses.

These, too, still hang in the market, recalling memories of the beloved cowboy philosopher.

Through the years, the market developed a unique personality.

Mrs. Redding recalls that, during World War II and shortly after, when the wives of GI's undergoing treatment at Dibble hospital had to shop for meat with limited budgets and when the first "GI" students moved into Stanford Village, the Doughtys found themselves budget advisors as well as butcher shop operators.

"Some of our present-day customers are former students and GI's who have come back to this area," Mrs. Doughty explains, "and every year, at Christmas, we get cards from all over the country from people who remember us from those days."

When Doughty died his wife who had learned the business while working alongside her husband, needed help. Mrs. Redding who had had no previous experience, was called in.

STARTS FROM SCRATCH

"We just had to get along a best we could," Mrs. Redding recalled, "and I learned the business as I went along. Our customers were very cooperative and understanding, so everything worked out all right."

The two women are not the only ones who learned something about the butcher business, at the Menlo Meat market.

Frank Reece of East Palo Alto currently a butcher and school board member in that area, got his introduction as a delivery boy so did Mel Johansen, another local butcher.

Other delivery boys who didn't follow the trade but who are now well known in the community include Municipal Judge E.J. Ryan and Edward Derry.

Why are they quitting business?

Well, Mrs. Doughty explains she's over retirement age and, although her plans are indefinite she has a lot of house work to catch up with, at the family home at 1261 Laurel street.

Her sister, Mrs. Redding, who weighs only 103 pounds, said that in her case it was a matter of housework and, too, her doctor has told her she cannot go on hoisting large cuts of meat around forever.

"I have no particular plans for the future either," Mrs. Redding said. "But I could write a book.

"We've met a lot of wonderful people, both customers and our suppliers.

"And we've had a lot of fun too."

Dorel's Now Open In New Location

Open this week in a new location, at 785 Santa Cruz avenue, is Dorel's women's apparel shop, which had been in business on Doyle street since May, 1951.

Proprietor Mrs. Doris Farman announced that the new store, in addition to carrying its regular lines of sweaters, blouses, skirts, playclothes, casual dresses and a selection of dressier wear, will include a hosiery and lingerie department under the operation of Evelyn and Arthur Hardy and managed by Marjorie Hadeler.

Assisting Mrs. Farman in the store are Kappy Brady, Lois McKenna and Betty Pinkley.

The Dutch door, which became a trademark of the establishment at its old location, has been moved to the new store, which is in the quarters formerly occupied by the Shreve and Pryce sport shop.

John Fleming Named Hillsboro Builder

John C. S. Fleming of Menlo Park has been named as one of the developers of a 215-acre parcel in Hillsborough—one of the last developments which may be possible in that area.

The subdivision is in the southwest portion of the exclusive upper-Peninsula community. Fleming is a member of the purchasing Rancho Canada Verde corporation. Seller was Philip M. Landsdale, who reportedly received more than $500,000 for the property.

Menlo Park Seaman Serves in Orient

YOKOSUKA, Japan (Special)—John H. Durrant, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick H. Durrant of 945 Valparaiso avenue, Menlo Park, arrived here Sept. 15 for a six-month tour of duty in the Western Pacific aboard the submarine USS Menhaden.

The guppy snorkel submarine's home port is San Diego, Calif.

Woodside Crusade Group Holds Meet

The machinery of the Woodside area United Crusade drive went into action Oct. 12 at the home of the general chairman, Mrs. William Wallace Mein Jr.

Phil Morris and Mrs. Irene Goff from the San Mateo office were present to describe this year's campaign goals and to answer questions. The district chairmen were given their portfolios which contain all the material necessary to launch the residential drive on Oct. 28.

The area chairmen are Mrs. August Schilling, Woodside proper; Mrs. Thomas F. Mason, Woodside Hills and Woodside Heights, and Mrs. Thomas Schulte, Portola. The district chairmen under Mrs. Schilling are Mrs. W. C. Pillsbury, Mrs. Carl Shine, Mrs. C. S. McPherson, Mrs. Richard Hyde, Mrs. William Keady, Mrs. Sam Eastman Jr., and Mrs. Larry Murphy.

Mrs Schulte's chairmen are Mrs. Edmund Buckley, Mrs. Hugh Southgate, Mrs. S. F. Henderson and Mrs. Ray Garassino. Those assisting Mrs. Mason are Mrs. David Bohannon, Mrs. Rudolph Schilling and Dr. W. H. Murphy.

1000 Attend M-A 'Back to School'

One thousand parents attended Back-to-School night at Menlo-Atherton high school Oct. 12. After the opening PTA meeting, the visitors followed their children's programs about the school and heard the instructors tell of philosophies, content, and methods of the school's courses. The evening's program closed with the serving of refreshments in the auditorium.

Three hundred twenty - eight memberships in the M-A PTA were sold during the evening. Five hundred tickets, each of which represents an option on a Christmas tree in the sale that the Kiwanis and the Optimist clubs will hold in December, were distributed for sale. M-A will receive a share in the proceeds for its bleacher fund.

December Opportunity For Northward Trek

An excuse for localites to go traveling up north will be presented December 2 and 3 when the Garden Study club of the Peninsula stages its "Christmas Dream Tour" of Hillsborough.

If you've a mind to, make a note of the residences on your Holiday calendar—they include the Neal McNeils' where the Russian delegation to the 10th anniversary of the UN stayed; the homes of the James Marshalls', Douglas Bartholemess' and David W. Reids; and the "Uplands" mansion of the late Templeton Crocker, occupied by the Russians when the UN was organized and locale for a champagne cocktail party climaxing the tour.

Tickets are available now, and may be had from Mrs. Edward F. Becker, 411 Parrott drive, San Mateo, Mohun Internation Travel agency, San Carlos, or Robert Gates store, Burlingame.

Scout Leader Training Sessions Are Underway

More than 60 Menlo Park area Cub Scout leaders are currently enrolled in a leaders' basic training course being sponsored by the Live Oak District of the San Mateo county Boy Scout council and meeting weekly at Central school auditorium.

Sessions of the course will continue through Nov. 8, at which time certificates will be awarded to those who complete the course. The meetings started Oct. 11.

Already, those who are enrolled in the training have discussed "Fundamentals of What Cub Scouting is" and "The New Achievement Plan." At this week's meeting, they discussed "Program Planning—The Simple Way."

Topics which remain to be discussed include, Oct. 25, "Den Meeting—How to Conduct the Seven Parts of a Good Meeting"; Nov. 1, "Pack Meeting—How To Make It the Best Shown in Town".

On Nov. 8, class session will be divided into three parts: "Pack Administration," "Den Mother—Den Chief Relationships" and "Ideas on conducting a Webelos Den."

Richard F. Holt, chairman of the Live Oak District training committee and Peter P. Karagas, Course Cubmaster, are in charge of the meetings.

MENLO BUILDER AT WORK

Groundbreaking for an 80-home subdivision in Palo Alto was held last week by the builder, Mackay Homes, of Menlo Park. The homes will be in the $16,000-$18,000 price class.

Spreckels Heads GOP Assembly Group

Claus Spreckels, of Menlo Park was Tuesday night elected president of the Sequoia Republican Assembly unit, at the group's regular meeting at the Atherton town hall.

Spreckels, long active in local Republican circles, heads a slate of officers which includes Mrs. Rudolph Kutsche of Atherton as secretary; Mrs. William Bancroft, also of Atherton, as secretary and Junius Cary of Menlo Park as treasurer.

Members of the board of directors of the group include, also, Gordon Mitchell of Menlo Park; Mrs. Leah Clarke of Redwood City and Harlan Veal of Redwood City.

The unit also joined the California Republican assembly and hundreds of other organizations in a resolution offering the group's hopes and prayers for the speedy recovery of President Dwight Eisenhower.

Woodside School Trustee Resigns

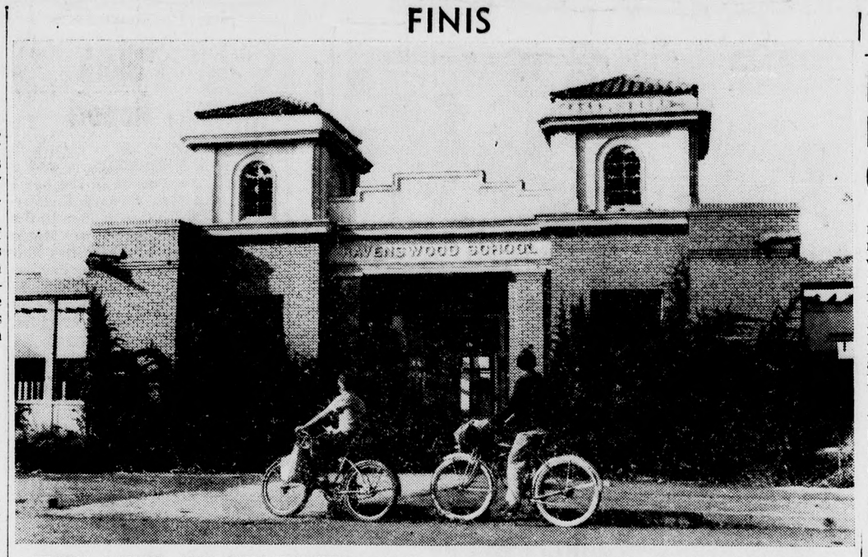

The resignation of Ernest C. Arbuckle, formerly of Woodside, from the Greersburg Elementary School District board of trustees was accepted last week by County Schools Superintendent James R. Tormey.

Arbuckle, vice president of W. P. Grace and company, has moved with his family to Santa Clara county, rendering him ineligible for membership on the Woodside board, a position he has occupied since his appointment in July, 1952.

Tormey simultaneously announced appointment of a citizens' nominating committee to suggest names from which he may select to fill the vacancy on the governing board.

This committee includes Mrs August H. Schilling, 201 Manzanita way, Woodside, who will act as chairman; Edgar L. Norris, superintendent of the Jackling estate, Mountain Home road, Woodside, and member of the San Mateo county grand jury schools committee; Clarence Sill, on the staff of the San Mateo county engineer and the two remaining board members — Mrs. Helen A. Lubin, board clerk, La Questa way, and Milton J. Purcell, 104 Hillside drive, both of Woodside.

FINIS

JERRY AAKER AND KEN BARKER paused on their bicycle rounds for one last glimpse of Ravenswood school recently as the Recorder's staff photographer Bob Newcomb happened by. Since that time immense "jaws" have gathered up debris as the district's first school is leveled and becomes "no more". The front section, first addition and the auditorium, all condemned, have been demolished. The "new" section, on Euclid avenue, built in 1941, remains as the Ravenswood Elementary School district special school. These structures were ordered removed by the board of trustees in keeping with a contract with the California state department of education under the state aid program.

Ravenswood School District Forum On Education Set

As final acceptances are being received from Ravenswood Elementary School district residents who have been invited to take part in the Ravenswood Community forum on education November 2 and 3, the planning committee moves into the final stages of preparation with a meeting tonight at the homes of Mrs. Arthur Krogh, 2411 Illinois street.

Materials to be sent to those who will participate will be assembled and plans for a meeting of the committee and all chairmen on October 27 in the school board room in the administration building with Dr. Maynard Bemis will be completed.

Dr. Bemis, head of the department of educational administration at the University of Wyoming, is on a year's leave of absence from his university. He is replacing Dr. A. John Bartkey at Stanford university while Dr. Bartkey is on a leave of absence.

Dr. Bemis was a teacher and administrator for 12 years, receiving his degree from the University of Colorado in Boulder. He is at present making his home in Palo Alto with his wife and three daughters, but will return to the Wyoming campus next September.

Last fall Dr. Bemis spent his sabbatical leave on the Stanford campus, working with Professor J. Russell Kent and Dr. Keith Goldhammer on a California School Boards association book, "Boardmanship", which was presented this week at state convention for acceptance. Dr. Bemis is a member of the San Mateo County Continuing School survey.

Members of the Ravenswood Citizens committee feel they are fortunate in securing Dr. Bemis as conference head and keynote speaker for the forum.

A. Trumbull Notes 25th Year with UAL

Austin F. Trumbull, 1073 Tehama avenue, radio engineering superintendent of United Air Lines, last week celebrated his 25th year with the firm which he joined as a mechanic in the early days of commercial flying.

Trumbull worked for the company as a mechanic until 1940, when he was named superintendent of aircraft at UAL's Chicago base. He was transferred to the San Francisco base as superintendent of maintenance in 1942. Two years later, his interest in aircraft radio and electrical equipment led to his appointment as superintendent of that department at Chicago.

Trumbull returned to the bay area in 1947 and was appointed to his present position in 1954.

Stanford Appoints Assistant Chaplain

STANFORD—David H. Romeis, graduate of the Chicago Lutheran Theological seminary, has been appointed assistant chaplain of Stanford university, President Wallace Sterling announced today.

Romeis served overseas during the second world war with the United States Coast Guard. He was graduated from the University of Chicago with a bachelor's degree in philosophy before entering Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary where he received the degree of bachelor of divinity.

During the past year, Romeis served as part time assistant to the Stanford chaplain, Robert M. Minto, while doing graduate work in the speech and drama department at Stanford. He is a graduate of the Stanford radio-TV institute.

He is married and lives at 890 Cambridge avenue in Menlo Park.

102 From Menlo Park Patients at Sequoia

A total of 102 Menlo Park men and women were among the 958 patients admitted to Sequoia hospital during September, the publicly-owned facility's regular monthly statistical report indicated this week. Of the new patients admitted, also, were 23 residents of Atherton and 11 residents of Woodside.

The hospital was the scene of 169 births, 11 deaths and 161 major operations during the month, the figures showed. Average stay per patient was 4.3 days. The 208-bed hospital operated at 66 percent of capacity.

Student Leaders Seated at Encinal

Encinal school student body officers were formally installed Friday, at a special meeting attended by sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils held at the multi-purpose room.

Dr. Melville Homfeld, district superintendent, administered the oath of office to the new leaders, and conducted the installation.

Kenny Lee was seated as president; Arden Jones, vice president; Margaret Matthews, secretary and Mike Cottrell, treasurer.

Ann Fullenwider was installed as public relations chairman and Robert Mitchell, welfare chairman.

Engineer Named Audio Group Veep

(SRI)—Roy A. Long, engineer in Stanford Research Institute's radio systems laboratory, flew to New York City last week where he took office as western vice president of the Audio Engineering society.

The installation banquet was a highlight of the society's seventh annual convention at the New Yorker hotel.

During his one-year term, Long will coordinate activities of the many sections of the society in the western United States. He will also provide liaison with the executive and central vice president.

He has been a member of the San Francisco section since 1949, serving as chairman in 1952.

The society is composed of professional engineers in the field as well as hi-fidelity enthusiasts.

3 Mumps Cases Reported Here

Three cases of mumps, two cases of whooping cough and a single case of syphilis were the only communicable diseases reported from Menlo Park during September, the regular monthly bulletin of the county department of health and welfare reports.

There were no communicable ailments reported from Atherton or Woodside during the period.

But from "Menlo Park Outside," unincorporated areas near the city, single cases of chicken pox and dysentery were reported.

Writer's Club to Hold Monthly Meet at School

Regular monthly meeting of the Menlo-Atherton Writers' club will be held in the cafeteria at Menlo-Atherton high school next Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Lewis F. Lengfeld of Books, Inc., San Francisco. For more than five years, Lengfeld has entertained TV viewers with his program, "Let's Look at Books," and his strong opinions have touched off some lively discussions among his fans.

Douglas and Blackwood Play for SJS Freshmen

Bill Douglas, second-string All-Peninsula Athletic League center for Menlo-Atherton last year, started at left guard for the San Jose State freshmen when they played East Contra Costa JC Saturday night at Concord.

Tom Blackwood, first string quarterback for M-A a year ago, also played for the Spartans but did not start. Fullback Walt Tranchina, ex of Lincoln of San Jose, was also in the starting lineup.

Dr. Sidney Raffel At TB Conferences

STANFORD—Dr. Sidney Raffel of 618 Hermosa way, Menlo Park, head of Stanford university's department of medical microbiology, is participating in two symposiums of tuberculosis researchers.

The first was sponsored by the National Tuberculosis association in New York City Oct. 17-18. November 9 through 13 he will participate in an international symposium on "Tuberculosis in Childhood" at the National Jewish hospital, Denver.

Dr. Raffel, noted research immunologist and a Stanford faculty member since 1935, has been studying the tubercle bacillus for a number of years.

He was recently appointed consultant to the surgeon general, United States Public Health Service, to deal with applications for grants in microbiology and immunology. This appointment will take effect the first of January.

Cows Prowl Streets Of Belle Haven

There aren't many cows in Menlo Park, as a regular thing, but once in a while the bovines stage a comeback.

Both Sunday and Monday, for instance, City Poundmaster Lucien Lacroix was called to Hamilton avenue in Belle Haven, suddenly invaded by cows from a pasture just north of the city limits.

Lacroix said that on both occasions he made temporary repairs to the fence around the pasture, which had presumably been broken down by hunters.

Besides seeking wandering cows, he was also seeking the owner of the bovines, to see if he could be persuaded to make permanent repairs to the fence.

Area Residents Join In PA Church Fete

Residents of Menlo Park and other communities in the area will be taking part tomorrow evening when a "Mission Festival" will be presented at Grace Lutheran Church, Waverley Street and Loma Verde avenue, Palo Alto.

By means of displays, booths and authentic materials prepared by some 50 members of the church's Mission Guild, those attending will be transported across the seas for an evening to the seven mission fieds of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. The event will start at 7 o'clock and is open to all.

ALUMNI TO GATHER

Santa Barbara college alumni living in Menlo Park as well as other sections of Northern California will gather for a "Homecoming Away From Home" in Sacramento Saturday, Oct. 22, in connection with the football game matching Santa Barbara branch of the University of California with Sacramento State college.

Kiwanis Elect Seven Directors

Seven members of the board of directors of the Menlo Park Kiwanis club were last week elected to office at the regular luncheon meeting of the group.

The seven, who will serve with President Elton Martin and other officers whose names were announced previously, include Albert (Kit) Carlton, John Coleman, Dave Daniels, Robert Gentry, Darwin Keahy, Joseph Roberts and Fred Walker.

RESUSCITATOR TREATMENT

Menlo Park Fire District firemen last Thursday afternoon spent 24 minutes giving resuscitator treatment to a 62-year-old Hillview drive resident, who had been found unconscious and in convulsions. The resident was described as having been a long-time sufferer from poor health.

As We See It:

EA TEAM!

Want to see some action?

The time to see it is 3 p.m. tomorrow, the place is the Menlo-Atherton High school playing field.

There, for the first time in the school's history, our local Bear gridiron varsity will tackle an opponent on their home ground. Ever since Menlo-Atherton opened, its varsity football games have been played at Sequoia's field in Redwood City or in the opponent's camp.

Despite the spirit-dampening effect of never playing in their own home town, our Bears have carved themselves an enviable record. They wound up last year's season tied for the championship of the Peninsula Athletic League.

Sharing top spot with them last year was San Mateo High school. And who are they playing this week? San Mateo!

If you like to watch football action, if you love the excitement of real school spirit, you'll find it at Menlo-Atherton tomorrow when our own Bears take to the field—their own field for the first time ever—to defend their gridiron record.

It won't cost you a nickel. Admission is free, and OUR team deserves a roaring welcome home!

———o———

ME FOR DANCING, TOO

After Friday's gridiron battle you may not have much voice left, but if your legs are still strong and you're looking for "something to do" in the social way Saturday night, we can think of no better suggestion than to take in the Menlo Park Fire District firemen's association's seventeenth annual Firemen's Ball, at Burbank gym from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

From the point of view of the person seeking entertainment, a real investment. This is proved by the fact that, through the years, the dance has become one of the area's most popular annual social events. Youngsters and oldsters—all who enjoy dancing to good music—always get their money's worth.

And from it, too, from the point of view of all residents. Your local Fire district is known as one of the best anywhere. Its fire department; its morale is high. And one of the reasons for that morale is that the department, officers and men alike, have the support of their community and the approval of those they're hired to protect.

The proceeds of the dance go to the district firemen's association widows' and orphans' fund. They pay an "insurance premium" for the firemen, who cannot protect their families through normal insurance channels because of the riskiness of the job.

They do that job in your behalf.

So you owe it to yourself, for fun, and you owe it to your fire district, too, to get out Saturday night and enjoy yourself at the firemen's Ball.

———o———

WHY YOU'RE LATE FOR SUPPER

Sometimes, when you're waiting on Bayshore highway for a chance to creep past Willow road, or waiting on Middlefield during the 5 p.m. rush near Linfield Oaks, or waiting on El Camino Real for that car half a block ahead to precede you in turning left at Santa Cruz avenue—you're apt to start feeling persecuted.

You may grind your teeth. We do. You may amuse yourself by criticizing the habits of other drivers who, like you, are trying to edge ahead a little bit, here and there. We do. You may also enjoy playing word games, counting the letters in roadside signs, meditating on what you forgot to do before you left home in the morning. We do these things also.

You may, however, succumb to the temptation to blame "somebody" for the fact that the roads have become inadequate. This we never do.

The reasons? Well, you can't blame the public officials. Where specifically prohibited from doing so by law, they still can't build highways and signal systems ahead of the need, in places where-they-aren't-very-useful-now-but-might-be-later.

The taxpayers (you again) wouldn't stand for it.

And you can't blame "these Johnny-come-lately's, who've decided to settle down here, taking the last of the vacant land, generally diluting the rural atmosphere which we liked when we came here and creating problems of growth which won't be solved for a generation."

This sort of thing doesn't sound well, coming from an "old settler" who's been here less than 10 years himself.

Who can you blame?

Yourself, probably. The man who 20 years ago had but one car, now has two; his wife feels persecuted if she can't get to town on her own.

High school boys and girls like cars, too. Very few bicycles will be seen within the precincts of the Menlo-Atherton campus.

The result of all this is that there are just more cars on the road than ever before; more cars, in fact, than the roads can handle.

And all those autos are driven by people just like you and me . . . and the hard-pressed public officials who are trying to do something about it.

JINGLE BELLS!

Last week we heard the first distant tinkle of Santa's sleighbells, when Newton, our newshound with the nose for news, reported the year's first letter to "Santa Claus, North Pole," had cleared the Menlo Park postoffice.

This week's gray skies, traditional harbingers of the holiday season, echo the tinkle more loudly. And yesterday, the Marine corps reserves tuned up the tinkling to greater volume with announcement that their annual "Toys for Tots" drive is about to get under way.

With all this growing clangor in our ears, we turned to the calendar and found, to our amazement, there are only 56 shopping days left till Christmas!

Better get busy, Mom and Dad. The good saint will be chimney-bound before you know it!

Our Nose for News TELLS US:

Men throughout the centuries have used many different indicators to aid in predicting future weather conditions. These have ranged from the length of fur on a caterpillar to barometers and stratospheric soundings.

Menlo Park's Mayor Charles P. Burgess has his own method of predicting changes in the weather. "The rains will be late this year," prophesied Burgess at the informal city council meeting Tuesday night, "because we're not doing any street work."

Motorists leaving Stanford stadium Saturday afternoon tried a few end runs, reverses, and other intricate patterns in attempts to dodge heavy traffic and, reports Police Chief George Potter, officers refereeing the jam managed to clear the downtown area so traffic could move on El Camino Real within a few minutes.

He didn't say anything about Bayshore, which gave the highway patrol a considerable headache all the way to San Francisco.

The Chief explained that things were expedited here by turning off all four El Camino traffic signals, and ordering traffic directed by officers.

This personal touch, he said, helped a lot.

Ever wonder how Menlo Park got so big so quickly?

The Bay Area Council offers the fact that 23.5 square miles of San Mateo county were subdivided during the years 1947-55, inclusive. The same thing still goes on, however, with 3.4 square miles of the county's erstwhile sylvan vastnesses and pristine vistas converted into housing area during the fiscal year ended last June 30.

Okay, so it didn't all happen in Menlo Park. But it's a nice statistic, don't you think?

* * *

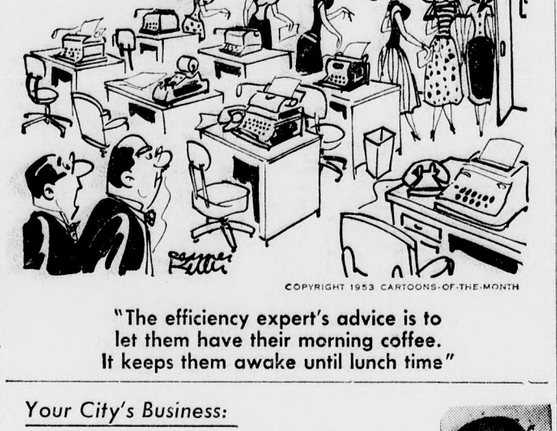

A couple of five-year-olds came to the attention of Menlo Park Fire District firemen Sunday.

One of them, Robert PeCoy of 1205 Cypress street, East Palo Alto, did so by falling out of his swing.

The other, Martha Willett of 1508 San Antonio street, did it by getting scared after climbing too high in a tree.

Robert, who cut his head pretty badly when he fell, was taken to Palo Alto hospital by Fire District Assistant Chief Charles Dompe. Full treatment. Ride in chief's car and everything.

Martha, who wasn't hurt, got handling which was almost as gallant. She was helped from her perch by firemen using an extension ladder.

Your City's Business:

Maintenance of Attractive City Is Key to Future Prosperity

By CHARLES P. BURGESS
City Councilman, Menlo Park

On of the objectives of the city government, and one toward which much progress is being made, is the improvement of our tax base. I believe such progress will be accelerated from here on, for the potential of population increase at this point is not nearly in proportion to the potential commercial development in Stanford Village and Linfield Oaks.

Our off-street parking program will hold the importance of our central commercial area, which ultimately will expand despite the Stanford shopping center competition.

Steps taken by the city council over a period of about 10 years have resulted in the investment of millions of dollars in commercial properties in our city. These properties are now bearing a substantial fraction of the tax load that otherwise would fall on residential taxpayers. Additional millions will be invested in the near future, which will have the effect of further sharing the tax load.

The council's part in this development primarily has been the initiation of the central business district parking and street widening program, the formulation of the garden-type office building zone, and the successful fight to make Menlo Park the permanent home of Stanford Research Institute.

But back of all of this is the confidence of these investors that the city council will maintain a favorable climate for economic development, or more simply stated, a desirable community in which to live, work and raise a family. In short, they expect Menlo Park to be a first rate community. I would settle for nothing less myself.

But during the past decade while our population rose from 4000 to 24,000, and our area increased threefold, we outgrew many community facilities. If we stop and take stock, we find that we are very deficient in a number of fields.

The library situation is an example. Our library building, and the material available there, is shockingly deficient for a city approaching 25,000 population. Yet our growth has been so rapid that we do not yet have our sights adjusted to the size of library we must have to be a first class city.

The same story is true of recreation facilities. Only half a dozen years ago they seemed ample. Our streets and highways, which in 1948 served us well, are now turning into bottlenecks.

The answer is simple. If we are to continue to attract the cream of business concerns to Menlo Park, we must expect to invest money in the physical facilities necessary to make this the city we all wish it to be.

Councilman Ira Bonde submitted a list of capital improvement projects for discussion to the council recently, divided into (1) street and highways, (2) public buildings, and (3) recreation. It is an excellent list, and we should go to work on it right away, discuss it with interested groups, assign priorities, and work out financial methods.

Walter's

GREETING GRATES

Walter the Weather mouse ran into the office and hid under a chair.

"Come out," we said. "You're safe here. What have you done now?"

"I was only trying to be friendly," explained Walter. "I walked into an antique shop and asked the resident mouse, 'What's New?' and he chased me two blocks."

Two Sign Up Here For Army Airborne

It was announced Oct. 6 by Master Sergeant Edgar E. MacNeill, station commander of army recruiting for the San Mateo county area, that two young men from Menlo Park have enlisted under the Army's buddy system for Airborne training.

Joseph Leo Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Delaney of 2001 Menalto avenue, Menlo Park, has lived in this area all his life—attending local schools.

Donald Hurley of 1269 Carlton avenue, Menlo Park, also attended local schools most of his life.

Both men were enlisted through the army recruiting station, 315 Second avenue, San Mateo, and are currently undergoing basic training at Fort Ord. Following this training they will be transferred to one of the Airborne training units.

Stork Report

A PINK ENSEMBLE is now a part of the wardrobe in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Wayman of 1411 Plumas avenue in the Belle Haven district of Menlo Park. A baby daughter has now joined her parents since her arrival at Palo Alto hospital Oct. 10 where she reached 7 pounds, 8 ounces. The couple's first child, she has been given the name Vinita Romona, derived from the mythological goddess, Venus.

Telegrams of congratulations have arrived from Vinita's grandparents, Mrs. Adeline Wayman of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Friedrich Baeumler of Germany. An aunt, Mrs. Geralda Baeumler of West Palm Beach, Fla., has also sent her regards to her niece.

The young lady's father is an electronics technician at Sylvania Electric company in Mountain View.

WELCOMED HOME since her initial appearance at Palo Alto hospital Oct. 10 is the newest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hilmer of 885 Menlo Oaks drive, Menlo Park. Her parents have chosen to name her Diane Louise and announce that the scales were boosted to 8 pounds, 4 ounces. The fourth child to join the Hilmer household, Diane has been introduced to her brothers Eric Alan, 3½, and Michael Andrew, 5½. Her sister is Nancy Lynn, 4½.

Grandparents of the four youngest Hilmers arrived here Monday from their Los Angeles home and have lately been displaying their baby-sitting talents. They are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hilmer, who plan to return south within the next few days. Sending congratulations upon the arrival of Diane Louise were three pairs of aunts and uncles, all of Los Angeles. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Gettle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gettle, and Mr. and Mrs. James Gettle. Diane's father is a teacher at Garland school in Palo Alto.

ANOTHER VOICE in the family affairs of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Whipple of 178 San Andreas drive, Menlo Park, originates with a baby daughter, born at Palo Alto hospital Oct. 12 where she tipped the scales at a hefty 9 pounds, 6 ounces. The third child to join the Whipple household, she has been given the name Julie Anne, in honor of her father's sister, Mrs. Virginia Anne Goodall of Indianapolis, Ind.

Julie Anne has been greeted by her brother, Richard Copley, 4, and her sister, Christine Lynn, 2½. Also on hand for her arrival home were Mr. and Mrs. Horton Whipple of Woodside, grandparents of the three youngsters. Maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Copley of Colorado Springs, Colo., have sent their congratulations. Julie's father is with the Whipple engineering company in Palo Alto.

City Fought Unemployment

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

October 17, 1930:

"A City Free Employment Bureau has been organized and is in operation under the direction of City Judge Jean B. Hoss. All unemployed workers of both sexes are invited to register . . .

"This service is in cooperation with the nation wide movement to facilitate the finding of jobs by the unemployed. Everyone that can provide a job by the hour, day, week or month is urged to do so now."

Baha'i Celebrates UN Observance

The Baha'i communities of Palo Alto and Menlo Park announce a special celebration honoring the accomplishments of the United Nations on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p.m. to be held at the Friends' metting hall, 957 Colorado avenue, Palo Alto.

Two main features will highlight the evening, the first to be a full length 30-minute sound motion picture film, depicting the behind the scenes workings of the UN, including visits into the Security Council, the Trusteeship Council and many other working elements of the "giant world peace workshop."

Thousands of visitors to New York tour the UN but few are admitted where the official UN camera was permitted to go. It is a lively tour and a comfortable armchair way of knowing your UN. Following the film showing, Arthur Dahl, formerly of Palo Alto, will amplify the showing and answer questions.

All are most welcome; no admission charge or collection.

Remedial Reading Topic of Course

Techniques for teaching the slow or retarded child in the regular classroom will be emphasized in an extension course in remedial reading to be offered at the Willow school in Menlo Park on Monday evenings, beginning Oct. 17, by the San Jose State college extension services. The class will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. through Dec. 12.

Mrs. M. S. French, who has had much experience in teaching children who need remedial reading instruction, will be the instructor. For several years she conducted a private school in Portland, Ore., and taught in the Portland city schools.

Her teaching experience has included rural schools in Montana, the Orthopedic hospital school in Billings, Mont., private tutoring in Washington as well as in Menlo Park, Palo Alto and San Jose. She taught first grade and remedial reading for seven years in the Walter Hays school in Palo Alto.

Jack Rice Takes Marine Training

SAN DIEGO (Special)—Jack L. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rice of 1216 Windermere avenue, Menlo Park, is scheduled to complete recruit training in November at the Marine corps recruit depot here.

The 10-week course includes instruction in all basic military subjects and the firing of all basic infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training, the new Marines are assigned to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for further infantry training, or to one of the many Marine corps schools.

System Paying for Itself

Quick Arrest of 3 Here for Robbery Credited to New Police Radio Hookup

Coordinated police radio systems of Menlo Park and Palo Alto began to pay for themselves almost immediately, Police Chief George Potter pointed out this week, as he reviewed how three Redwood City 'teen-agers were nabbed here within an hour after they allegedly robbed a Palo Alto shoe repair shop of more than $100.

The open-and-shut case also brought commendation for Menlo Park Police Lieutenant Tony Deocampo and Officer James Hacker, who located the boys, from Palo Alto Police Chief William Hydie.

All three of the youths were carrying straight razors when taken into custody.

The youths were first listed as being sought at 11:40 p.m. Oct. 12, when Palo Alto broadcast an all-points bulletin describing the youths and asking that they be picked up as suspected of robbing a shoe repair shop.

The broadcast said one of the lads was "possibly armed."

Hacker monitored the broadcast and recalled that he had seen three youths who answered the description given, waiting at a Menlo Park bus stop.

He called Lieutenant Deocampo and the two made the arrest.

Search of the lads revealed, besides the razors, a total of $178.46 on their persons. The three were later turned over to Palo Alto police.

Teen-Age Boys Nabbed by Police For Beer Theft

Menlo Park police officer Jerry Fletcher was commended this week for making good use of his eyes, apprehending three juveniles within two hours after they allegedly stole five cases of German beer from a Menlo Park restaurant Friday evening.

Search for the youths was hampered somewhat by the fact that on the night traditionally set aside for high schoolers' "nights out," there were lots of juveniles to choose from. So prompt was the arrest that all of the beer was recovered.

Officer Fletcher was first alerted, along with other police, when Mrs. Lillian Boyce, 1171 North Lemon avenue, reported that three youths had surreptitiously entered a rear door of the Oxford Delicatessen, 812 Santa Cruz avenue and had made off with five cases of imported brew.

Fletcher and Reserve Officer Percival Lyle, on patrol, spotted a car which matched the description given by Mrs. Boyce. One suspect was in the car, which at the time was parked near a local restaurant.

The police waited until all three were at the car, and then closed in.

The suspects, ages of whom were 16 and 17 and two of whom are Menlo Park residents, confessed to taking the beer, according to Police Chief George Potter. They also admitted having done the same thing before, but without getting caught.

Chief Potter said that disposition of the boys' cases has been left up to their parents and county juvenile authorities.

Dr. Fenton Attends Glendale Meeting

Doctor L. Howard Fenton, of Menlo Park, executive secretary of the California State Chiropractic association, last weekend attended the homecoming of the Alumni association of the Los Angeles Chiropractic college at Glendale.

The two-day program was of educational nature, and a report of chiropractic research projects.

Dr. Fenton was accompanied by Mrs. Fenton.

CHILDREN playing with matches were Sunday afternoon blamed for a minor grass fire at the end of Valparaiso avenue, Menlo Park Fire District firemen reported this week.

HOMECOMING

Calling all alumni of Menlo-Atherton high school! M-A's Homecoming needs you!

All former students have been invited to attend the night football game at Sequoia to participate in the activities at halftime, and then to come to the sock hop dance at Burgess gym afterwards. Introduction of past student body officers and a huge float will be featured during the evening of Oct. 28.

Under the direction of Rhoda Maxfield, school spirit commissioner, it has been planned ever since she first mentioned it last year. She especially requests parents of students who may be away at college to inform them of the event.

District Governor Is Rotary Guest

District Governor Wickland Stephens was official guest of the Menlo Park Rotary club last week, as the group held its official visitation meeting at the Fraternal meeting hall, 645 Roble avenue.

Stephens, who is a member of the San Francisco Rotary club, was honored guest at a club assembly which commenced at 11 a.m.; at the regular 12:15 p.m. meeting, he was featured speaker for the day.

The local group meets each Wednesday at the Roble avenue address.

8 New Citizens Reside in Area

Several Menlo Park area persons were recently awarded U. S. citizenship papers after successfully completing their naturalization examinations. Menlo Park residents who took their oath of allegiance include:

Erich Randmets, 292 Willow road, of Estonia; Annan Cook, 211 Felton drive, of Great Britain; Norman D. Gold, 1131 Menlo Oaks drive, of Great Britain; Joan Elsie Brownlee, 1255 Princeton road, of Canada; Jean Elizabeth Herbert, 740 Stanford avenue, of Great Britain; and Edna Florence Gold, 1131 Menlo Oaks drive, also of Great Britain.

A Woodside resident, Reidar Peterson of 140 Santa Maria avenue, formerly of Norway, and Akiko Umeda of 2257 Menalto avenue, East Palo Alto, from Japan are also newly become citizens.

FIREMEN WERE CALLED to an Atherton avenue residence Friday evening, when grease in a vent above the kitchen stove took fire. There was only slight damage to the walls, they reported.

The average depth of the Arctic ocean is 3953 feet.

Hollander Faces Deportation

Robertus Meijer, 29-year-old Stanford student who made his home in Menlo Park, will be deported to Holland, it was decided last week by authorieies. Meijer has completed a four-month sentence for passing bad checks, for which he was arrested last April 15.

Menlo Park police identification officer Howard Schroeder, who conducted the original investigation which le dto Meijer's conviction, said that he had passed a total of nine bad checks in this area. The student told authorities he had expected his father, who resides in Java, to cover them.

At Stanford, Meijer was studying for his master's degree in geology.

At the county jail, where he attained the status of a trusty, Meijer did two portraits of Sheriff Earl Whitmore.

Local Football Slate Is Choice This Week

By DENNIS ANDERSON

Local football fans have a full menu of attractions on deck this weekend that should keep them running around from now 'til Monday.

Three good prep ballgames and an important Menlo college tilt are on deck for tomorrow. Take your choice:

A good M-A fan will, of course, want to be at the first varsity football game ever played at Menlo-Atherton and will trudge over to the Ringwood avenue field regardless of the fact that there is no seating, or almost none. That dandy, with San Mateo, gets under way at 3 p.m.

A half hour earlier at the McBain avenue pasture, Menlo college runs up against the tough Monterey Peninsula college Lobos in a NCJC Coast section game. No seats there, eithere, but it's free. One recent poll ranked the Lobos ninth nationally and Menlo 12th. That's at 2:30.

But if you don't like anything that has to do with Menlo Park but want to see one of the finest young high school quarterbacks around, you can whip down to Hod Ray field and watch sophomore Greg Stikes mastermind the Burlingame offense against Palo Alto. Paly was the No. 1 Peninsula Athletic league team in a pre-season poll. That's another 3 o'clock tilt, and they have bleachers.

Whichever you choose, you'll just have time to hurry home to eat dinner and get up to Terremere field in Redwood City where Sequoia and Carlmont renew their neighborhood rivalry in a game that could well decide the ownership of the PAL cellar. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. under the arcs.

Or if you like long rides on Bayshore and the cold wind of the North county you can head up to South San Francisco where the Warriors are playing Willow Glen in an 8 p.m. tilt. It's listed as the PAL "Game of the Week."

Sit home and watch the game of the week on television Saturday because Stanford is playing Washington at Seattle. Unless, of course, you're eager enough to go over to see Cal and USC at Berkeley. That's a 2 p.m.-er.

Saturday night San Jose State and College of the Pacific resume their grid rivalry at Spartan stadium. The Staters put their unbeaten record on the block against the tough Tigers at 8 p.m. and the mayor of the losing city gets to humble himself by doing something ridiculous in the winning city.

Sunday the 49ers, who have apparently redeemed themselves in the hearts of their fans, return to Kezar stadium to tangle with the rough, tough Chicago Bears. It's at 2 p.m.

Quick to the television sets Sunday night to see the movies of the Cal-USC game and then to bed. That's enough football for anybody.

Casabamen Face Links Here Today

Menlo - Atherton high school's undefeated class C basketballers, along with the less fortunate but-still-trying Ds, continue their PAL campaign with a home game today against the SPAL's best teams.

The teams represent Lincoln high school of San Jose. Both squads from the Garden City are undefeated this year; Coach George Brinck has done his best to make basketball the sport at his school in the same way swimming is at Palo Alto, track at Burlingame, and baseball at San Mateo.

But while noting the stiffness of the competition Coach Bill Loftus still has hopes. The Cs have been scoring well in their more recent games and the Ds, who started slowly, are pulling themselves together.

Where the Link Cs won their last game by tallying something better than 40 points, the Menlo-Atherton crew managed to total 38 points in last Thursday's game with Palo Alto, and the Ds, who haven't been doing nearly that well, managed to bucket 36 points against the Li'l Vikes' 16.

Lineup for both teams may be modified somewhat, on account of a strep throat in one division and a twisted knee in the other.

The streptococci are currently raging around within Steve Sierra, D guard who is considered a dependable starter and the questionable knee belongs to Jim Kajikawa, who injured it in a recent game against Mountain View.

So with these considerations, Loftus lists the following starters:

Class C—Cliff Gwartney and Alonzo Wilson or Pete Lee as forwards; Butch Gordon, center; Fred Pegelow and Terry Maloney, guards.

Class D—Cliff Davis and Dom Ascani, forwards; John Peck, center; Mike Mallin and either Sierra or John Potter in the guard spots.

Menlo School Tries Comeback Against Amador

Menlo School, rudely upset by St. Vincent's last Saturday for its first Bay Counties Athletic League loss in two years, will attempt to regain some prestige in an inter-league battle with Amador High there tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

St. Vincent's topped the locals, 6-0, Saturday at Petaluma.

Coach Jack Lercari expressed concern early this week that Menlo may have lost the services of starting center Pete Costello and first string tackle Gib Virgo for the remainder of the season.

Both were hurt in the St. Vincent's game. In both cases the injury was diagnosed as a knee twist, the seriousness of which could not be immediately determined.

Lercari will probably insert John Hock in place of Virgo and replace Costello with John Curry for the Amador game.

His starting offensive backfield will probably be the same as it has in all Menlo's games to date. That would be Mike Bambauer at quarterback, Jim Moore and Dick Lawson at halfbacks and Dick Sheridan at fullback.

In the line Lecari will go with Curry at Center, Tom Lagerquist and Bernie Brown at guards, Mike Rothberg and Hock at tackles and John Bulkeley and Bill Fuller at ends.

Basketball Meeting:

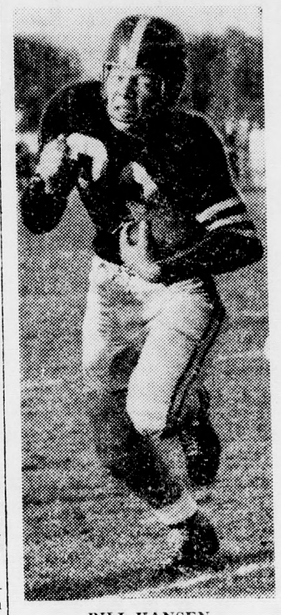

CALLED TONIGHT

A meeting of managers and representatives of teams interested in entering Menlo Park Recreation industrial, class B and 'teen-age basketball leagues has been called for Burgess gym this evening.

Stanley Sexton, Supervisor of Athletics for the Recreation department, said that Industrial teams will meet at 7 p.m., Class B teams at 7:30 and 'teen-age teams at 8 p.m.

All interested parties are welcome to attend the meeting. Sexton reported that there are no restrictions as to residence or localities teams represent. The only cost for teams will be fees of officials, he said.

Traditional Rites To Welcome Bears To Home Field

By ROGER FREEBERG

Traditional game-opening ceremonies — nothing special, unless school spirit can make it so —will welcome Menlo-Atherton high school's varsity football team to their first home game on their own home field tomorrow afternoon.

Announcing the program, Dean of Boys James Coffis this week also issued an invitation to the public to watch the locals in action. Seating has been provided, he said, and a public address system will carry news of the plays to the stands.

Menlo-Atherton's football field, which has seen service thus far as "home field" for the frosh-soph team and for practice sessions of the Bear varsity, has no score board, but a large blackboard will be provided for reference.

Grandstand seats for about 100 have been loaned to the high school by the Menlo Park Little League organization, Coffis said. Other grandstands—enough to bring the total seating to 700— are being brought in from Sequoia high school.

Menlo - Atherton high school's band, under the direction of Edward Brown, will provide music for the opening rites and also for half-time entertainment. Majorettes, under the leadership of Judy Paterson, will lead marching evolutions.

Dale Barnes is student leader of the band.

Cheer leaders who will command the yells of students include Michele Edelen, Sue Barron and Fran Feiten; Barbara Buckles, Martha Wright, Sue White, Fay Johnson and Sandy Leicester are pom-pom girls.

Rhoda Maxfield is commissioner of school spirit.

Players Name Cast For Fall Effort

Names of cast members who have been assigned roles in the Menlo Players' Guild's forthcoming fall production, "Picnic," were announced last week by Jerry LeGrand, director of the show.

The play is to be presented Nov. 11, 12, 18 and 19 at Burgess park Little theater.

There are still openings for stage crew members and other production assistants, LeGrand said.

Jane George has been cast to take the role of Helen Potts; Lucille Monette will play the part of Flo Owens; Patti Bakke, Madge Owens; Susan Fogle, Millie Owens; Bob Scott, Hal Carter.

Warren Kallanbash will play the part of Alan Seymour; Thelma Schaefer, Rosemary Sidney; Andy Anderson, Howard Bevans; Keith Joseph, Bomber; Ruby Bernstein, Irma Kronkhite; Peggy Wahl, Christine Schoenwalder.

Area Exhibitors In 'Palace' Show

Several area ranchers will be among exhibitors participating in the 11th annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, horse show and rodeo to be presented at the Cow Palace in South San Francisco Oct. 28 through Nov. 6.

The prospective exhibitors include D.W. and M. B. McDonough of Menlo Park, who will show four Angus breeding cattle; Chester A. Thuener of Woodside, who will exhibit a Hampshire sheep and Pat Gardner of Woodside, who will show too fat cattle an done breeding Angus.

BILL WILKINS WILL NOT play varsity basketball at Whittier college this fall. The former M-AHS ace was a top-flight reserve on the freshman team last year but is going to give up the hoop sport in favor of politics. He is vice-president of the sophomore class.

Elevens With Tied Standings, Put Equal Records On Block

By DENNIS ANDERSON

Coach Howard Costello has indicated he may juggle the Menlo-Atherton starting lineup when the Bears play their first "home" game in history tomorrow afternoon against San Mateo—the team which M-A tied with for the Peninsula athletic league varsity football championship last year.

The game will be the first varsity contest played at the Menlo-Atherton high school field on Ringwood ave. in back of the school. Gametime is 3 p.m.

Admission to the contest will be free but there will be seating for only about 700 of the more than 2,500 prep grid fans anticipated.

San Mateo and M-A not only finished last season knotted, but are tied for fourth place in the standings going into this game also, each having won one and lost one league game.

The Bearcats won their first PAL game under their new coach, Bob Mills, 25-20, over Jefferson last week with fullback Gerry Meyer scoring 24 of the points. Previously San Mateo had lost to South San Francisco, 19-6, and outclassed Drake in an inter-league tilt, 19-6.

Menlo-Atherton's nine-game winning streak, dated from Oct. 15, 1954, was snapped by Lincoln last Friday, 14-6, at San Jose. The Bears won seven in a row to close out last season and started right in again this year, clubbing Los Gatos, 37-13, in an inter-league game and bruising San Jose, 20-0, in their PAL opener.

Coach Costello was unhappy with the locals' inept offensive performance against Lincoln—they made only 43 yards total rushing and passing—and said he might make several replacements in the offensive team that opened the first three games.

Early this week he hadn't decided what changes would be made. His only definite commitment on a starting lineup was his announcement that quarterback Bill Brodie, sorely missed by the Bears in the Lincoln game, would be the field general.

Brodie, a senior who transferred to M-A from Oakland Tech last year, set out last week's encounter because of an injured knee. He returned to practice Monday.

Costello and line coach Don Dorfmeier put the Bears through tough blocking and tackling drills early this week, and may have found some new defensive men as a result.

Fullbacks Bill Hansen is sure to open at one linebacker spot and fullbacks Jerry Bogue and Larry Irwin, neither of whom saw any defensive action in the Lincoln game, may also back up the Bear forward wall. All were impressive in drills this week.

Menlo-Atherton will be in almost perfect physical condition for the game.

At San Mateo, Mills expressed confidence that his speedy backs and accurate passers would be able to handle the upstart Bears. He said, "This should answer the question of who had the best team last year."

San Mateo was rated as one of the top three contenders in preseason polls by the Peninsula Sportswriters association.

Tentative starting lineups tomorrow:

M-A	Pos.	SM
Je. Angelo	LER	Linck
Starnes	LTR	Dumke
Wild	LGR	Kerr
Bishop	C	Wisnom
Ward	RGL	Fugito
Gayer	RTL	Siebecker
Terhune	REL	Hamilton
Brodie	QB	Laumond
Hampton	LHR	Garrotto
Turned	RHL	Kile
Mathews	FB	Meyer

The Bears' inexperience caught up with them last Friday when they were turned back by Lncoln, 14-6, at San Jose.

Weaknesses that had not been found by either of the two previous opponents, Los Gatos and San Jose, were glaringly apparent and the hard and sure blocking and tackling which had been so valuable to the Bears in the first two games were not present.

Only bright spot was the pass defense, which, except for one lapse, limited the Lions to short completions on shallow hooks and screen passes.

M-A intercepted four of Mike Jones' aerials. Don Powell, making his debut at a defensive halfback, picked off three and linebacker Don Wild the fourth.

The one lapse in the Bear pass defense allowed Lincoln to get out of a hole in the third period. Larry Taormino hit Wayne Thush all alone in back of the secondary, but speedy Hal Turner brought Thush down from behind after a 39-yard gain.

Lincoln marched 68 yards in 15 plays the first time it had the ball in the game to take the lead. It was the first time in 10 games Menlo-Atherton had not scored the first touchdown.

GERRY MEYER
Bearcats' Breakaway Fullback

Scout Report:

Bearcats Display Breakaway Fullback In Fancy Offense

The hard running of fullback Gerry Meyer and deadly passing of quarterbacks Barry McCarron and Jim Laumond highlight San Mateo's frilly T-formation offense.

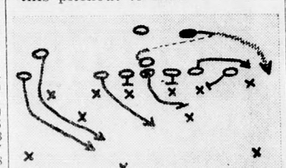

Meyer (No. 93) is a 190-pound veteran who is a constant breakaway threat. He averaged 11.4 yards in 11 carries last week and got off touchdown runs of 53, 28 and 27 yards.

Besides this he took a screen pass from Laumond (No. 58) for 71 yards to account for all four San Mateo touchdowns in its 25-20 victory over Jefferson.

After two games he is second in Peninsula Athletic league rushing with 148 yards net and a 7.0 average. Laumond is second in passing with a .480 percentage and fourth in total offense with 199 yards.

Coach Bob Mills' offense calls for flankers or split ends or both on almost every play. The Bearcats like to run traps and fullback slants, with Meyer carrying.

Their second best runner is left half Bob Kile (No. 85) and one of their favorite plays is this pitchout to him:

Note the split right end and the right halfback as a flanker right. Also the tackle leading the play.

Laumond and McCarron (No. 45) are good passers and may throw anytime, even when a ground drive is going well. Their favorite receivers are the two ends, Dave Hamilton (No. 91) and Don Linck (No. 90).

Linck caught six passes for 89 yards and a touchdown against South San Francisco.

Defensively the Bearcats use the 5-3-2-1 and 6-2-2-1 with the linemen pinching tight and the linebackers in very close. They are quick and aggressive.

Menlo Battles Monterey Here Friday

Menlo college will find itself in the unfamiliar position of the underdog tomorrow when the Oaks host powerful Monterey college in an important league game at Menlo. Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m.

Menlo, pre-season favorite in the Coast section of the Northern California junior college conference, the championship of which it is defending, was tied by a fired-up Hartnell college team, 19-19, at Salinas last Saturday night.

The game put a heavy dent in the Menlo plans, not only for a successful league championship defense but also for a possible bid to the Junior Rose Bowl, for which Menlo was considered a definite contender this year.

Injuries suffered in the game may have a much farther-reaching effect than the tie itself, however. Two starters and another regular were put out for "at least two weeks."

Captain Ron Bryan, all-conference center from Mountain View, twisted a knee and starting guard Gary Ingmire and halfback Jerry (Pinky) Steele both injured shoulders.

In addition, reserve end Jim Lenihan, who missed the Hartnell game with a pulled muscle, will probably be out tomorrow and halfback Steve Payne, who has been slowed up since the first game of the season because of a hurt ankle, will probably see little action.

Wayne Schwammel, second string center who Coach Bo Molenda shifted to guard last week because he had dislocated a finger and couldn't snap the ball, will have to move back into the pivot post to replace Bryan if his finger seands up.

Veteran Bill Moore will probably take over for Ingmire while third-stringer John Tynan, ex-Palo Alto high school whiz, will get the nod at right halfback.

Monterey, the full title of which is Monterey Peninsula college, is undefeated in five starts and is one of the top-ranking junior college teams in the country.

The Lobos have registered victories over Reedley, the Fresno State frosh, San Jose JC, Shasta and Vallejo. Shasta gave them the most opposition before bowing, 38-26.

Most impressive victory was the 33-13 conquest of Vallejo last Saturday. Menlo rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat Vallejo, 20-12, three weeks ago.

Probable offensive searters:

MENLO	Pos.	MONTEREY
Fitz	LER	Nelson
Kirkes	LTR	Lopez
Moore	LGR	Dayton
Schwammel	C	Hoy
Sisson	RGL	Napoli
Chalifoux	RTL	Fehn
Ahrens	REL	Quentel
Burns	QB	Woolverton
Horillo	LHR	Breslan or J. Crawford
Tynan	RHL	Casas
Ryman	FB	Blanco or Quentel

Excellent Eddie Burns pitched three touchdown passes for Menlo last Saturday night, but Hartnell college refused to be beaten and battled back for a tie in the NCJC Coast section tilt before 1800 fans at Salinas union high school stadium.

Burns directed the Oaks down the field the first time they had the ball in the game, ending a 54-yard drive on the seventh play with a 20-yard playoff toss to fullback Roger Ryman, who made a terrific catch on the goal line.

LAMBERT SCORES THREE

Art Lambert of Menlo Park scored three goals recently to lead the San Jose State water polo team to a 11-4 victory over San Francisco State.

Peninsula Symphony Opens Concert Series This Weekend at Sequoia Auditorium

Local area musicians and Symphony association members will participate this Friday and Saturday in the opening of the Peninsula Symphony association's seventh season of concerts.

One-sixth of the orchestra, approximately, is drawn from the Menlo Park area. The 65-member group is under the direction of Aaron Sten. The first concerts by the group will be Friday evening at Sequoia high school auditorium in Redwood City and Saturday evening at San Mateo high school auditorium in San Mateo.

Miss JoAnn Crossman gifted young concert pianist from San Mateo will be featured as guest soloist, in keeping with the Symphony's program for presenting talented young solo artists.

Miss Crossman received her early training on the peninsula and in San Francisco and received a scholarship to study with Leo Podolsky of the Sherwood Conservatory of Music in Chicago. While in Chicago she played as soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Miss Crossman will be heard with the orchestra in Frederic Chopin's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in F Minor, No. 2, Opus 21.

Other selections from the orchestra will include the Symphony in G Minor, No. 1, by Basil Kalinnikov and Aram Khatchaturian's "Masquerade Suite."

Local musicians include Jack Case, concertmaster, June Case and Paul Sturgeon, violins; Betty Anne Peterson, violin, East Palo Alto; Frances Fisher, Menlo Park and Edmund Silverbrand, East Palo Alto, violas.

Maurine Stowe and Nina Boothby, Menlo Park, 'cellos; George Sawthron, flute, Menlo Park, and Robert H. Stroud, Menlo Park, percussion.

Menlo College Oaks Settle for Tie With Hartnell 11

Burns made what turned out to be an all-important conversion, but a holding penalty nullified it and his second try, from the 17, was short.

Hartnell recovered a fumble by Tom Maudlin, then drove 44 yards in 10 plays, capping the march on the second play of the second quarter when Takeo Hirahara passed to Hal Boutte for 19 yards. Davey Crocker put the Panthers ahead, 7-6, when he kicked the placement.

Later in the period, Dave Gallegos returned a punt 33 yards to the Menlo 33 and the Panthers drove again. Crocker produced a first down on the 21 with fourth and inches to go to keep the drive alive.

Then Hirakara skirted off tackle for 11 yards on a keeper and Bob Fierro burst through guard for 10 and the teedee. Crocker's placement was blocked by Fitz.

Menlo drove to the 29 after the kickoff but lost the ball. With two minutes left they took over on the Panther 34 after a punt. From there it took six plays.

Burns passed to Roy Ahrens for 19 and a crucial first down on the 19 and then tossed to Troy Ratliff for the final 11 yards. Burns kicked the extra point from John Horillo's hand to give the Oaks a 13-13 tie with just 15 seconds left in the first half.

Horillo returned the opening second half kickoff 16 yards to the 32 and Menlo marched the remaining 68 in seven plays. Horillo sparked the drive with a 45 yard burst off tackle to the Hartnell 27.

John Tynan picked up 14 yards and a first down on a sweep and Burns zeroed in Ahrens for 12 yards and the score. Burns missed the PAT, however, and Menlo led, 19-13.

Menlo drove again in the third quarter, getting to their hosts' 19-yard line before a penalty threw them back.

Once Hartnell got the ball it drove to the Oaks' 20 where Ratliff stopped the march when he hit fullback Gene Benedetti so hard that Benedetti fumbled and John Stoney recovered for Menlo.

Gerry Sisson stopped another Panther drive in the final quarter when he intercepted a Hirahara pass and returned it 20 yards to the Hartnell 30.

On first down, however, guard Jaimo Bareng broke through to trap Maudlin, causing him to fumble into the hands of Frank Bernal. Hartnell then drove 70 yards in 14 plays to the tying touchdown.

The drive appeared stopped when Hartnell came up with a fourth and 13 on the Menlo 31. Hirahara threw a desperation pass, and Horillo, defending on the play, tripped and fell, allowing Boutte to take the ball for a 28 yard pickup and a first down on the Menlo three.

Two plays later Fiero bucked over left guard from the one, but Fred Harris' conversion kick was high, wide and short. There was 1:30 left in the game.

Water Poloists Face James Lick At High School

Menlo - Atherton high school's thus far impressive varsity water polo team, with three PAL victories in as many league starts, today hosts James Lick high school natators in the first home game to be played at the local pool.

Coach Tommy O'Neill's mermen gained the latest of their victories last Thursday when they beat Capuchino 11-1 at the north county school. Previous to that time they'd got past perennial winner Palo Alto and its runner-up in the habitually victorious ranks, Sequoia.

Today's tilt, which starts at 3:15 p.m., will see first use of goaling cages which the locals have been doing without since the sport was instituted last year. And although the top teams of the league have been downed already, before the season is half over, Coach O'Neill promises plenty of action for patrons of the game who want to watch.

Actually, "first home game" would have been played early this week, but a series of reschedulings, girls' gym classes, and other interruptions forced the cancelling of a hoped-for match with Carlmont. The match couldn't be played at the Highlanders' pool either, for the same reason.

Today, O'Neill's crew will take to the drink with most of its regular starters, although Goalie Don Genasci may miss the start because of illness. Gary Dodson, who has seen action both as goalie and forward, may start in his place.

For the rest of the lineup it looks, said O'Neill, like the regulars: Bill Lawson, Spinner Johnston and Andy Schwarz at forwards; Jeff Pinto, Keith Hollueffer and Bill Augenstein at the guard spots.

Last week's win over Cap was one to inspire confidence in the locals but, O'Neill has been warning his players, it doesn't mean the rest of the schedule can be negotiated without inspired playing.

The locals were well ahead all the way and led by a 8-0 score at half time.

AS CONCERT DATE NEARS

LOOKING OVER THE SCORE—Peninsula Symphony orchestra conductor Aaron Sten (standing) and Miss JoAnn Crossman, Peninsula pianist who will be featured soloist at the orchestra's first pair of concerts, to be given Friday and Saturday nights, are shown looking over the score of the Chopin concerto Miss Crossman will play here.

Junior Touch Football League Opens Play At Menlo Park Area Elementary Schools

By BOB KINSLEY

Play in the Menlo Park Recreation Elementary touch football league began at the playgrounds yesterday. Six teams are entered in the two divisions for fifth and sixth graders.

The teams play league games at the playgrounds every Wednesday afternoon. Fifth grade games start at 3:30 p.m. and sixth grade games at 4:15. Next Wednesday's schedule:

Hillview at Oak Knoll, Fremont at Village, Encinal at Willow.

Menlo Park Recreation Junior touch football league play enters its second round Saturday morning at Nealon park. The schedule:

Encinal No. 1 vs. Hillview No. 1 at 9 a.m., Menlo Oaks No. 1 vs. Hillview No. 2 at 10, Encinal No. 2 vs. Menlo Oaks No. 2 at 11.

There will be two games, one in the seventh grade and one in the eight grade divisions, at each hour. Recreation department supervisor of athletics Stanley Sexton said a larger crowd than the 150 which attended last Saturday's opening games is expected.

In eighth grade division play, Menlo Oaks No. 1 team defeated the No. 2 team, 26-0. No. 1 led only 7-0 at halftime, but scored twice in the last period to cinch the win.

Gunther ran around right end with a lateral in the first quarter for the first score. Pryal passed to Wahl for the second touchdown in the third period and threw to Dupont for the extra point.

Pryal tossed another scoring pass in the fourth quarter, this time to Crese. Later in the final period Gunther passed to Baker for the last touchdown.

Menlo Oaks A team topped the B tea, 13-6, in the seventh grade division. Darold Martin passed to Alan Aldrich for the winning touchdown late in the game after a B-team punt had gone awry.

The A team's first score came on a Martin to Lee Smith to Robert Gugliemetti pass play. Angelo Butera passed to Smith to end a drive for the B team's only score.

Hillview has two eighth grade teams and last Saturday the first team beat the second team by a score of 20-14 at Nealon Park. The big scoring punch for the first team was end Jimmy Walker who scored two touchdowns.

In the first half of play the first team completely outplayed the second team, scoring two touchdowns to none. Roger Pitney scored the other touchdown for the first team.

In the second half the second team outplayed the other team. Both of the second team's touchdowns came in the fourth quarter. Jim Jorgensen threw a pass to Pete Edelen for a touchdown. Then he threw two long passes to end Dick Burns to set up the second touchdown. Dick made beautiful catches on both of them.

Then quarterback Jorgensen threw a pass to Bob Kinsley in the end zone for a touchdown. The conversion was successful when Ken Sierra caught a pass in the end zone.

Hillview has two seventh grade teams and the second team beat the first team in a tight battle by the score of 16-14 at Nealon Park last Saturday. The game was very close all the way. The first team got its last two points when the other team was caught in its own end zone for a safety.

Teams Seen About Par:

Frosh Sophs Carry Campaign to South City For Today's Trial with 'Average' Eleven

Menlo - Atherton high school's not quite undefeated frosh-soph football team, nearing midway in its current campaign, today travels to South San Francisco for what Coach Frank Bettencourt says will probably be an interesting game."

In this one, the locals will face a split T formation.

And, although South City has a worse record than the Bruins, the two teams may prove to be about par statistics being what they are.

Currently, Menlo-Atherton has two wins and one loss and the SSF crew has one tie and two losses. But such records can pile up early in the season, says Bettencourt, depending on the strength of the early opposition.

Meanwhile, all teams improve. Menlo-Atherton's frosh-sophs have got most of the kinks worked out of themselves, and there are no injured players. The full 40-man squad, said the coach, will take the bus north.

Old stand-bys, however, will take to the turf as starters. This means Bob Ralls at left end; Gary Hewitt, left tackle; Ray Holderman, left guard; Roger Postlewaite, center; Dave Linebarger, right guard; Dick Knowland, right tackle; Bob Anderson, right end; Dick Green or Ken Williams, quarterback; Ron Harris, fullback; Doug Hovik or Bill Meeske, left half and Les Dalacio, right half.

Last week the locals pulled themselves up a small distance in the statistics, by climbing past Hillsdale, 12-6, at the local field.

One TD was made after Williams passed to Ralls for 40 yards and later sneaked across from the one.

Ron (the tank) Harris managed to keep a couple of drives from sputtering, with good running.

Frosh Top Bells, Prep for Carlmont

Menlo - Atherton high school's freshman football team, which surprised itself last week by downing a highly-rated Bellarmine eleven, 13-0, is currently looking forward to Oct. 25. On that day, the locals host Carlmont.

Coach Bob Arnesen said this week that he hopes to be able to give all of his boys a chance to play but this, of course, depends on what Carlmont comes up with. On the freshman teams, everybody is unknown.

Last week's win was pulled out of the fire by Lynn Larson, passing to Dave McDowell for the two teedees. Fullback Herb Daniel added the Bear cubs' extra point.

The coach, however, couldn't say whether he'd stay on the ground or take to the air next week.

MENLO CUBS LOSE

Menlo School's Cub football team, made up of seventh and eighth graders and the freshmen reserves, was defeated by the Sequoia high school freshman reserves, 13-0, last Saturday morning at Menlo college.

MENLO PARK MID PENINSULA BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FIFTH AVENUE RENTAL SERVICE, 101 Fifth avenue, Redwood City, is open seven days a week for the convenience of residents of the area who wish to rent euipqment of all kinds. C. S. Blair, has been owner of the business for the past three years, although the company has been at the same for 10 years. Equipment for rent includes just about everything from a small shovel to a ditch digger, and more than 10,000 pieces of equipment are available. Anything needed for work about the house or yard will be found here. Hours are from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Blair is a member of the Elks club and the Optimist club, and takes an active part in civic affairs. He also is interested in flying, and holds a pilot's license. He resides in the area with his family which includes two sons.

ONE OF THE ENTERPRISING ESTABLISHMENTS is Edmund's, which features young fashions and Edmund's Coiffeur, of 859 Santa Cruz avenue. Owners of the establishment are Edmund Lind and Mrs. Harriett Lind, and the store opened last October. Mrs. Lind operates the dress shop which features all types of casual year, hosiery, accessories, girdles and bras, particularly for those requiring junior sizes. Dress shop has an attractive line of smart ready-to-wear in sizes from sub-teen through size 20. Mr. Edmund specializes in hair styling in the beauty salon. Store is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. including Saturdays, and the beauty salon is closed Mondays. Both Mr. Lind and Mrs. Lind are members of the Chamber of Commerce. They reside in Menlo Park.

DERRY'S FEED AND FUEL COMPANY, 630 Oak Grove avenue, Menlo Park, has been serving the community for 32 years. Ed Derry, owner, carries a complete stock of hay, grain, straw, and other feeds, as well as garden supplies, firewood, coal and fertilizers. The garden section of the company features a complete line of garden tools and equipment, as well as seeds and fertilizers. Derry has fertilizer rollers and spreaders which are loaned without charge with purchase of fertilizers. Company is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., but is closed on Sunday. Derry has had many years of experience in his business, and will be glad to assist gardeners with advice. He is a member of the Elks club, and the Chamber of Commerce. He lives in the district, and has six children, three boys and three girls.

JOEL'S ICE CREAM, 1039 El Camino Real, manufactures home made ice cream in 33 flavors. Roy M. Nevins, owner of the establishment has been in the same location for five years serving the residents of the community with healthful ice cream with that home-made flavor. Sherbets in many flavors also are manufactured. Lunch room is operated in connection with the ice cream sales, and homemade doughnuts are featured. Store is open every night until 10:30 p.m. for the convenience of those who want a snack before retiring. Nevins, who has been engaged in several other busines senterprises in Menlo Park, resides here with his wife and two children. He features many unusual flavors and ice cream combinations for the pleasure of his patrons.

Green Foliage, All by Itself, Can Provide a Good Garden

By TERRY LEE

The cool, restful, eternal quality of a green garden is familiar to all.

Plants prized for their foliage rather than flowers can make a year around show place. Here we are lucky to have the extra dividend of colorful berries, as in the pyracantha, or lovely flowers, with the dark green camellia leaves.

But the background of a garden should be planned around foliage textures and forms which will give a quiet but sturdy beauty that is peaceful and yet interestingly alive.

While green will be the major color, there are hundreds of shades of this color, and many variations of whites and yellows on the green.

I like variegated ivy, or the white band around the holly-leafed osmanthus, or the yellow tip on the golden junipers to brighten a green spot.

The bamboo-like leaves and the many red and yellow tones on the evergreen leaves of nandina make it a valuable shrub in semi shade against the heavy leaves of aralia of rhododendron. It is texture form and color that make such a combination so pleasing.

It is most important to remember that every plant in the garden exists in relation to neighboring plants.

Color and size of leaves, form of the plant, height, width, thickness and such things as berries or flowers can all be considered in themselves at the nursery, but must be visualized in their setting at home.

It is never so effective to have two lacy leaved plants together (as nandina and Japanese maple) as it is to contrast one against another leaf form (as the maple against a dense laurel hedge).

NEED THEME

It is also important to decide on the major background theme — such as laurel or wild cherry — and plant enough of this to make a mass of green. Then accent this with a sharp contrast in form and color, such as the gray teucrium or light leaved daphne. Such a contrast should exist in a relationship of about five background plants to one accent. Fewer background plants than this make the total garden plan hard to visualize at a glance.

It is such fun to play with textures and put little hen and chicken succulents under the dark green, thin-needled mugho pines.

Decorative trees and shrubs give beautiful color to a garden: the purple leaf plums, golden cypress, red maple, variegated box elder, weeping birch and cherry, big-leaved and shiny magnolia or loquat.

The gnarled forms and interesting bark of such trees as the oaks, olive, madrone and bay can make a whole garden alive. I love to see wild strawberries turning their wonderful reds under the dark green, feathery redwoods, spring bulbs under a flowering tree (pink daffodils under a crabapple), or blue hydrangea massed in back of white birch clumps.

As you drive around, note down the plant combinations that please you, for though you may buy only one plant you are dealing with the combinations it will make in the existing garden.

Try not to let pink heather bloom near red pyracantha berries, but do have blue rosemary blooming near a big clump of yellow yarrow.

GARDEN CALENDAR
WEEK OF OCT. 20

All the advice about planting perennials is worth reading. You benefit by planting them now as the clumps will be three times as large in the spring.

Good preparation of soil is important (incorporate manure or peat moss and fertilizer) as the plants will remain untouched for several years.

For a succession of bloom plant iris, columbine, delphinium and pinks for May and June; daisies, coreopsis and daylilies for July; phlox, vero nica, salvia and baby's breath for August, and chrysanthemums for fall.

* * *

Many tomato plants are still laden with green fruits. At this time they develop slowly and the plants are beginning to die.

The worst possible place to ripen tomatoes is on a sunny window sill. Full-sized but green tomatoes should ripen at room temperature in a shady place.

If the temperature is above 85 degrees the yellow pigment is formed instead of the red and the fruit has inferior flavor. If the temperature is below 70 the fruits ripen slowly and may be sour.

It is also possible to pull up the whole vine and leave it stacked in a dry spot in the garden.

As many as possible of the fruit should be inside the stack, with the roots outside, and the soil left on the roots. The tomatoes are shielded by the foliage and have the benefit of natural maturing as the plants wither slowly. You can pick good tomatoes from such stacks for a month or so.

* * *

This is the time to order lilies for your garden. The great trick in planting them is to have freshly dug bulbs and get them in your garden as fast as possible.

Callas grow like weeds here, and so have my elegant Madonna lilies, Auratum and Rubrum lilies. Try even one for a delightful surprise. The clumps increase in size every year.

* * *

While tulips and daffodils are the favorite bulbs, it is possible to have a big display from the lesser bulbs. They are relatively inexpensive and multiply rapidly.

Snowdrops and crocus begin in February. Glory of the snow in March, grape hyacinths in April.

FOR YOUTH ACTIVITIES

YOUTH HAVEN of East Menlo Park, Incorporated is sponsoring a three-day carnival to raise funds to purchase property for a proposed teenage center in Belle Haven on October 21, 22 and 23. Mrs. Leon Cook, parliamentarian of Green Oaks PTA, Earl Holtman, assistant Scout master of Boy Scout Troop 333, Mrs. Frank Berdon, publicity chairman for Belle Haven PTA and E. J. Serochi, publicity chairman for Youthhaven are among the representatives of various organizations that are backing the affair. Signs such as these have been placed in merchants windows throughout Belle Haven and East Palo Alto. The Menlo Park city council Tuesday night heard City Manager C. L. Longson report that plans have been made to remove barriers at the intersection of Bayshore highway and Alpine avenue to permit motorists to turn right off the thoroughfare to the site of the festivities.

Around the Classrooms:

'Junior-Junior' Government Gets Started At Oak Knoll; Laurel School Now 'Official'

At Menlo Park's Oak Knoll school the voting mandate has been extended to primary graders with this year's institution of a "junior" junior government.

Under the advisorship of first grade teacher, Miss Eileen Doyle, primary graders have formed their own student government, electing representatives and officers.

The "junior" legislature convenes Tuesday mornings at the early hour of 8:45 a.m. Universal suffrage has not yet been extended to kindergartners.

* * *

This week, for the first time, the new Laurel school had a flag pole—and a flag. Monday morning, in a solemn ceremony, Laurel school flag monitors hoisted their fresh new "Stars and Stripes" into a misty morning sky — another symbol of the school's "wholeness" as the last of the remodeling was completed and all the classes moved in for the year.

* * *

The foreign language classes are taking the spotlight in Encinal school's new elective program. Albert Checchi is instructing a class of seventh and eighth graders in French, while Mrs. Doris Beltz is offering a course in German to the Encinal upper-graders.

Both courses will concentrate on conversation, and have started children off with alphabet, numbers, a limited vocabulary with verbs in the present tense and some phrases.

Mrs. Beltz has begun her students' study of German with an exploratory history of Teutonic languages, to which English is directly related. Students will follow a written outline tracing the history of Germanic language, taking limited lecture notes, and begin to use the few words and phrases they have been given.

The emphasis, at this level, will stay on conversation, and grammar will be presented them in small doses as the year progresses.

* * *

Only 69 shopping days 'til Christmas? Miss Clara Bolei's fourth grade at the Laurel school will be ready in time.

Class members have already started their Christmas preparations with their new "pottery-tile" project in clay and glazes. Though cookie molds have been just a "little" help, children have molded and painted the tiles to their own designs. When Christmas does come around, they will hang their brightly colored ceramics on their Christmas trees.

* * *

Flowers and ivy (not poison) are the keynote of the "special" interest which Pressley Mothern, Fremont school custodian, and his wife give to their school. Nearly every room at Fremont school has some type of plant in it by now: variegated ivy, fibrous begonias, and several varieties of philodendrons. The "above and beyond the call of duty" interest in their school makes for fine morale throughout the entire staff, Fremont Principal Homer Alderman reports.

* * *

Classrooms? More of them are coming to Oak Knoll school. Last May, the district voted bonds to pay for a seven-classroom addition to the school. John Richert, district business manager, reports that the bonds have been sold, and the money is in the district building fund awaiting acceptance of construction plans by local and state officials.

Kingsford Jones, the district's architect, reports final plans are now on the drawing board. It is expected they will be finished and approved by the board and the state division of architecture's section on schoolhouse planning in time for the district to let out and receive bids by mid-November.

Garden Club Sets Meeting Topic

Garden club of Menlo Park will hear Ellsworth F. Duke, arrangement specialist and flower show judge, discuss "Principles of Flower Arrangements" at the group's next regular meeting at Little House, to be held Oct. 24.

The gathering is to convene at 8 p.m.

Duke's talk will be illustrated with drawings.

ANOTHER FORMER MENLO-ATHERTON athlete who is giving up football is Quarterback Dan Varty, who will drop the gridiron sport this fall in order to concentrate on track. Varty missed a lot of his freshman year at Dartmouth with injuries. He is plenty serious about track and has already been drilling for over a month, though the season is half-a-year off.

Sir Francis Drake named the Farallone islands the Islands of St. James in 1579.

32nd YEAR—No. 42 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1955 PAGE 13

Mrs. Clark J. Keenan Is Charter President:

Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club Just Organized; Mid-November Meeting Planned for Prospective Members

TALKING OVER PLANS for the future are Mrs. Ralph F. Harris and Mrs. Clark J. Keenan (left and right below), charter vice president and charter president, respectively, of the brand new Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's club. Other officers (left to right in second picture) are Mrs. Richard T. Starr, treasurer; Mrs. John J. Morrissey, recording secretary; and Mrs. Herbert Fulda, corresponding secretary —Recorder photos

The largest organized group of women in the world—the General Federation of Women's clubs—has been swelled very recently by 14 new members, all from Menlo Park and Atherton.

With "philanthropic work in the community" as their goal, these 14 young matrons are all members of the just-formed Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's club, whose first official meeting falls in the third week of November.

The Menlo Park Women's club, headed by Mrs. Bennett Wilson, president, is the parent club for our local "juniors", whose own charter officers include:

Mrs. Clark J. (Charlotte) Keenan, 1070 College avenue, president; Mrs. Ralph F. (Rosamond) Harris, 970 Alice lane, vice president; Mrs. John (Jean) Morrissey, 23 Nancy way, recording secretary.

Mrs. Herbert (Rita) Fulda, 1352 Orange avenue, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard (Angie) Starr, 725 Olive street, treasurer, and Mrs. Glenn Harding (Jane), 8 Cheryl place, membership.

Prosepctive members to the new group will be presented at the November meeting. According to the Menlo-Atherton Juniors' bylaws, membership will be limited to 30 — meetings will be held every third Wednesday of the month in homes.

LOOKING BACK

It's hard to reconcile the Women's clubs of today with the General Federation's first organization meeting of more than 60 years ago.

Speaker at the first session was Charles Dickens, who had just arrived from England and had to meet with the ladies in secret, since public opinion at that time was against organization of the fair sex.

With 11,000,000 members representing 48 states in the United States and 42 countries, the General Federation is the largest organized pressure group in the world, as well as being the largest organized group of women.

SEAT IN CONGRESS

In fact, the General Federation president has a permanent non-voting seat in Congress.

As for the Junior Women's clubs in California, there are 188 units with a total of 8500 members; Mrs. Eugene Nott of Arcadia is the state president.

Besides the officers, charter Menlo-Atherton Juniors are:

Mrs. Robert (Gloria) Birchenall, 1131 Westfield drive; Mrs. Norman (Denise) Bourke, 931 Timothy lane; Mrs. Rodney (Arden) Carveth, 196 Encinal avenue; Mrs. Henry (Louise) Dodds, 361 Claire place.

Mrs. Robert C. (Jane Heen), 7 Nancy way; Mrs. Burt C. (Skipper) Kendall, 400 Claire place; Mrs. George (Claudia) Peterson, 1067 Willow road and Mrs. Byron (Elsie) Sigler, Building 203, Apt. 3, Stanford Village.

Now Mrs. Robert Babbick:

Susan Shellenbarger Married October 9

Standards of white stock, chrysanthemums, daisies and gladioli combined with graceful ferns flanked St. Pius church for the October 9 ceremony uniting Susan Shellenbarger and Robert Joseph Babbick.

The petite bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Burr Shellenbarger of Menlo Park. Preceding them were Mrs. Roger Stiles (the former Janet Arnold, a bride of three months to the hour) as matron of honor, Kathleen Bill, bridesmaid, and Lynn Arnold, Mrs. Stile's sister, junior bridesmaid.

The honor attendant's pale yellow gown of soft flowing fabric was styled with a semi-full ballerina length skirt and a wide V-neck ed bodice. Her tulle headpiece was of a matching color, while her bouquet of white daisies accented the costume.

Lynn, too, wore pale yellow and carried an old fashioned nosegay of white, blue and yellow flowers, while Kathleen was frocked in light blue with a bouquet of white daisies.

BRIDE'S GOWN

The bride's gown of white lace was simply fashioned, its full length gathered skirt topped by a bodice with tiny sleeves and a scalloped rounded neckline. As a complement to her wedding dress, Sue wore an elbow length double veil clasped by a coronet of seed pearls and carried a cascade of stephanotis and white orchids.

For her "something borrowed" she wore Janet Stile's blue garter.

Roger Stiles had been tapped for best man duties by the bridegroom, son of Mrs. Lena Babbick of Redwood City and the late Mr. Babbick.

Michael Shellenbarger, the bride's brother, headed the party of ushers, who included Bob Gadell, Jimmy Peck, Elmer Drennon, Bruce Staten and Dick Liemetz.

THE MOTHERS

As Father Armstrong conducted the nuptials, Mrs. Shellenbarger looked on in an aquamarine afternoon dress which she wore with a white sequined hat and aqua shoes. Mrs. Babbick was attired in pink orchid brocade for the occasion, matching both hat and shoes to her frock. Both mothers had been given white orchid corsages.

Right after the 3:30 p.m. ceremony, the newlyweds received more than 200 guests, then chatted with them further at the reception party given by the bride's parents, 556 Placitas avenue.

Among those attending was Mrs. Chloe Gee of Napa, the bride's aunt.

Friends and relatives filled the Shellenbargers' living room and drifted out on to the patio and in the garden before the bride, dressed in a dark blue taffeta frock and white accessories, left with her husband.

NEW HOME

Their destination was their newly-furnished residence on Chestnut street, Redwood City, where they are officially "at home."

Sue is a student at Sequoia high school, where she is to be graduated next June.

Bob attended Sequoia high school and is currently president of the Alky-haulers, a car club sponsored by the Redwood City police.

Party Reveals:

ENGAGEMENT

At a buffet supper party given Sunday night by the Dale Franes, the host rose to his feet and offered a toast to Martha Bateman and her fiance, Dan Ruhl, both residents of Menlo Park.

The bride-elect, who lives at 1025 Laurel street, is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Wemple Ryall, 875 Partridge avenue. She is employed in Menlo Park with Jenkel-Davidson, and is a member of the local Business and Professional Women's club.

Mr. Ruhl, a native of Lodi, is a partner of the contracting firm, Cain and Ruhl, with headquarters in Los Altos.

Wedding plans for the couple are as yet indefinite.

Rummage Sale for:

FELLOWSHIPS

For the benefit of their Fellowship Fund, members of the Menlo-Atherton branch of AAUW are making plans now for a rummage sale, to be held November 10 and 11 in Trinity hall, Ravenswood and Laurel street.

The announcement was made By Mrs. Harwood W. Huffcutt, fellowship chairman for the branch.

All members and friends of the AAUW who wish to contribute rummage may have it picked up at their homes by calling Mrs. D. E. White at DA 2-8462.

Second Party of Season:

Barn Dance at the K-5 Ranch Listed in Starlighters' Datebook

If ducks take to water and salt and pepper are inseparable, what could be more natural than a barn dance party planned by our inimitable folk dance caller Don Newport and his wife, Margaret.

The clever invitations, which depicted a flirtatious lady horse in her new hat, indicated that Saturday's second Starlighter soiree of the season would be held on a real ranch—the K-5—in Cupertino.

Mrs. Lawrence Klein put her thinking cap on, and reeled off this verse for the bids:

"To all ranch hands, dudes and their dolls,

"We announce a Starlighter hoedown, the 'Buckboard Bounce'

"Wear your cottons and jeans, there'll be plenty of motion.

"And bring your own jug, 'cause you'll pour your own potion . . ."

The Buckboard Bounce will feature autumn decor done by the Newports, Steve Stevensons, Leo Vartys and Sanford Mooses, as well as a chuckwagon dinner around 8 p.m. and a "live" band ready to play reels (with Don Newport at the helm) or rock 'n rolls . . . also fox trots.

The Vic Musys, in charge of refreshments, expect guests to start coming at 6:30 p.m. in official dress—cotton and jeans. The latter represents quite a change of pace, since the next three dances in the Starlighter season are formal affairs.

Decoration, according to the Newports will include bright square dance posters, farm hats, corn husks and a low Western fence. Checkered cloths and hurricane lamps will adorn the tables —so will some original little horses designed by the Vartys.

The clever miniature steeds have already created a stir among committee members, who helped put them together. Bodies of wood blocks and dowling are topped with manes and tails of fringe, tiny blankets and even hats like those pictured on the invitations.

Sounds like a whinny-ful evening.

Gretchen Schwieso Is Engaged

BRIDE-ELECT
—Hans Roth photo

Making plans for their January 28 wedding date are Gretchen Schwieso and DeVere L. Ferrin, whose engagement is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schwieso of Menlo Park.

Both Gretchen and De, as the prospective bridegroom is known, are attending the University of California at Berkeley.

Following three years of study at Sequoia high school, the bride-elect spent one year at Shimer college, Mt. Carroll, Illinois, as a student in the Ford Foundation experimental group of high school seniors in college.

At the present time, she is a senior at UC and a major in criminology.

De, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. Ferrin of Santa Cruz, was graduated from Santa Cruz high school and completed military service with the army in Berlin. He is finishing studies now in the field of forestry.

Chuck Schwieso, a senior at Menlo-Atherton high school, is the future bride's only brother, while De has two brothers, Dixon and William of Santa Cruz.

At Fellowship Hall:

Hubert Herring Will Launch CHS Program Series Monday

"For the general reader and student alike, Hubert Herring offers the best available approach in print to an understanding of present-day Latin America. Rare is his combination of expert knowledge, accurate scholarship and lucid, zestful exposition."

So writes the New York Herald Tribune in a review of Mr. Herring's latest book, "A History of Latin America." The author himself is due in Menlo Park on Monday as first speaker in the 1955-56 program series sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton chapter of the Children's Home society.

Telling about "Communism in Our Back Yard," Mr. Herring will present a hard hitting account of the activities of Moscow's agents in Chili, Brazil, Argentina and other countries.

Dr. John J. Johnson, professor of Latin American history at Stanford, will be on hand to introduce Mr. Herring, whom he has grown to know and respect both personally and professionally.

MORNING COFFEE

The program, to be given in Fellowship hall of Menlo Park Presbyterian church, will follow morning coffee at 10 a.m.

In charge of season tickets for Monday's program, as well as for similar ones on December 2, January 23 and March 26 are Mrs. Frank Nye, DA 5-6937, and Mrs. Kenneth Ackles, DA 2-0702.

Mrs. George Sommers is program chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. Noel Eldred and Mrs. Claude T. Lindsay.

The December lecture will feature guest speaker Charlotte Vickery, a gracious and accomplished woman, who will use laces, brocades, damasks and hand loomed tapestry furniture covering in a talk about "Fabrics Against the Web of History."

WEAVES STORY

Mrs. Vickery weaves her story of the fabrics through the centuries, using the history of Europe as the warp and the wars, explorations, love and intrigues of the princes or church and state as the woof.

Following the program, guests will be allowed to examine the exquisite fabrics, part of the fabulous collection which Mrs. Vickery inherited from her father.

"Handwriting, the Revealing Gesture" is the provocative title of Mrs. Virginia Jennings' lecture on January 23.

CHARACTER STUDY

The speaker will take guests on a personally conducted tour, as it were, through character indications which our handwriting reveals. A better understanding of oneself and others will follow as she delineates handwriting on a chart illustrating the little human interest stories which she relates.

On March 26, Samuel W. Taylor of Redwood City will present a "Potpourri of His Works and Experiences."

HUBERT HERRING

A while ago, many people in this area traveled to San Francisco to see his hilarious play, "The Square Needle" after it had run several months in Los Angeles.

Among his many other works is the mystery, "The Man with My Face" which was shown at local movie theaters—however, Mr. Taylor was rather peeved because the film producers changed the locale of the original story from Redwood City and San Francisco to spots considered more colorful.

Still other well-known works include "The Grinning Gizmo," a whodunit, and "Family Kingdom," a story about Mormon polygamy as practiced by his own father and mother and his father's other wives when the church was young.

Proceeds from these four lectures will benefit the Children's Home Society of California, a statewide, non-profit adoption agency.

Women's Club Makes Plans for 'Double Header'

Two important events loom high this week on the calendar of the Menlo Park Women's club.

First, the annual fall rummage sale is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today and tomorrow in Trinity hall, Ravenswood avenue and Laurel street.

Second, the first in a series of three luncheon card parties will be staged Tuesday, also at Trinity hall, for all club members and friends. Reservations, to be in by tomorrow, may be made by calling Mrs. W. Theiss at DA 3-5783.

Hostesses for the Tuesday affair include Mrs. O. P. Donahue, Mrs. Louise Cutler, Mrs. Bennett Wilson, Mrs. Louis Anderson, Mrs. Judith Pfaff, Mrs. Albert Ittner, Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, Mrs. Margaret McCracken.

Mrs. John Bruce, Mrs. Floyd Beach, Mrs. C. J. Michelotti, Mrs. A. Seiller, Mrs. L. A. Phoebus, Mrs. V. Babawal and Mrs. Sophie Nicholas.

In addition to card games following lunch, guests will be offered a selection of white elephants to buy. Anyone with such items they would like to contribute to the sale may contact Mrs. Michelotti, DA 2-4031, for pickup service.

Proceeds from the Women's club's various events go to benefit their service fund which in turn provides for such projects as a college scholarship, Girl Scout camperships and other works for the community.

Fun, Frolic and Food in Lineup For Oak Knoll's Hallowe'en Fete

It's "fun, frolic and food" for all come Sunday afternoon, October 30, from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at Oak Knoll school.

Plans for the annual Hallowe'en carnival sponsored by the PTA of Oak Knoll are well under way, and chairmen and committees are hard at work to make this affair fun for children and adults alike.

The traditional costume parade at 1:30 will be the opening event. Judges from the Lions club will award prizes to one boy and one girl from each grade for costumes most representative of the Hallowe'en spirit.

Unique games such as the "hole-in-one" driving range for adults to test their skill at golf, with a grand prize for the day's best score, have been set up. The white elephant and potted plant sale, the cake walk, rogue's gallery, bomb drop, movies, dart throw, douse-the-candle, will attract both young and old alike.

The ring toss, the fish pond, the clown face throw, kiddie ride, helium balloons, pick-a-pocket lady will be especially fun for the younger set. Most of all, there will be plenty of prizes for all, win or lose.

Food of all varieties—moms and dads will be donning aprons to barbecue hamburgers and hot dogs. Coffee and soft drinks, pastry and candy, snow cones and candy cotton will be featured.

Heading up the committee for the carnival is Mrs. William Shaw, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Weinrichter. Chairmen and assistants of the various concessions are:

MRS. DRUM

Mrs. William Drum, Mrs. J. Ross Craik, Mrs. Daniel Meagher, Mrs. George Ford, Mrs. Richard Madigan, Mrs. Paul Mattern, Mrs. James L'Hommedieu Jr., Mrs. Robert Hadeler, Mrs. Bruce Walcher, Mrs. Leonard Joseph, Mrs. John Foster.

Mrs. R. V. Eldridge, Mrs. Kenneth Bong, Mrs. A. L. Herbert, Mrs. J. J. Voye, Mrs. Chet Johnson, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. Ellis Lea, Mrs. Sheldon Beise, Mrs. Arthur Hislop, Mrs. James L. Johnson, Richard Johnson, Mrs. Norman McFadden and Mrs. James Lee.

Everett Bryan will be in charge of the construction and Mrs. C. A. Anderson, the decorations.

The public is invited to share the fun on Sunday afternoon, October 30.

Talent Tea:

POSTPONED

The October 28 Talent Tea, planned by members of the Westminster Women of Menlo Park Presbyterian church, has been temporarily postponed because of the association's overfull calendar, it was announced this week.

Handmade items from the members, which were to have been shown at the tea, will be on sale before today's association luncheon and before the November and December gatherings—in time for Christmas giving.

Ghosts, Goblins and Spooks, et al Invited to the 'Haunts' of Encinal For Next Saturday's Gala Carnival

The magic spell of Hallowe'en will be cast for the fifth consecutive year at Encinal school, when the PTA brews up a combination dinner-carnival-hobby show for Saturday, October 29.

Festivities at the school will start around 5:30 p.m. with a ham and spaghetti dinner to be served cafeteria style in the multipurpose room, according to Mrs. Raymond Peters, dinner chairman. Tickets may be reserved by calling Mrs. A. T. Cook, DA 5-5967.

The carnival, major PTA project for the year, is being co-chaired by Mr. and Mrs. George Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Graf.

A hobby show, displaying the collections of Encinal school children, will be set up in the kindergarten rooms, with prizes awarded to the best entries.

Throughout the school, various games of skill will be presented—"old timers" including the ping-pong shoot, clown toss, drive-a-nail, candle squirt and break-a-record—new events featuring the pumpkin carving contest.

In addition, there will also be movies, a spook room, cake walk, costume parade and snack bar.

Special chairmen include Mrs. Robert Lindsey, decorations; Verne Seybold, traffic and parking; Mrs. Roy Browning, hobby show; Mr. and Mrs. John Davenport, costume parade.

AAUW Sale Planners Meet for Luncheon

Members of the AAUW rummage sale committee met for lunch last Friday at Mrs. W. Harwood Huffcut's home to formulate plans for the November 10-11 fund-raiser.

Present at the gathering were Mrs. Vince Merkhofer, Mrs. Marian Irwin, Mrs. Donald White, Mrs. Warner Angerer, Mrs. Robert Wesley Brown, Mrs. George Kowalski and Mrs. Richard Bremer.

The sale is to be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, the 10th, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, the 11th at Trinity hall, Laurel street and Ravenswood avenue.

Marilyn Wade, Bob Ahern Set November Altar Date

A November 12 wedding date in Carmel has been set by Marilyn Wade and Robert W. Ahern, who are both of Menlo Park.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Samuel A. Wade of San Benito avenue and the late Mr. Wade, while the prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ahern.

Both Marilyn and Bob attended Sequoia high school, and are currently employed here in Menlo Park.

Two Localites on GOP Card Party Committee

Two localites, Mrs. John Eshleman of Menlo Park and Mrs. Carol Bauer of Woodside, are assisting on the committee for the Thousand Dollar card party being sponsored October 24-31 by the San Mateo county council of Republican Women.

Grand finale of the county-wide contest will be on Hallowe'en afternoon, when traditional bewitching decorations will vie with the GOP elephant for decorative honors.

Anyone interested in buying tickets for the week-long series may contact a committee member, who will in turn assign her to various homes where tables will be set up.

Alpha Phi

JEWELRY PARTY

To raise funds for their project, the Children's Health council, members of the Alpha Phi Alumnae group will stage an Emmons jewelry fashion show party at 8 p.m. this evening.

Dessert and coffee will be served by the hostess, Mrs. Frank Barnecott, 32 Shaw court, Redwood City. Afterwards, Alpha Phi's can browse in their leisure, remembering that all funds will help buy technical audio equipment, as well as mirrors and flash cards, for the Children's Health council speech department.

Any Alpha Phi who has not been notified and who wishes to attend, may contact Mrs. Barnecott at EM 8-0605 or Mrs. Lyle Gray at DA 5-5920.

For Hallowe'en G-hosts and G-huests Spine-Tingling "Ghost Alley" Promises Thrills for All Ages

If you're going to act as a g-host or g-hostess this Hallowe'en, Gayle Thompson's party file at the Menlo Park Recreation department offers a marvelous idea (to be modified for children, teenagers or adults)—and the name of this game is "Ghost Alley."

First prerequisites are a few friends to help you "pull off" the various shenanigans, keeping in mind that something has to happen constantly while unwary guests are going through the ghostly maze.

Suggested is an eerie entrance, "dark and mysterious," which can be a door camouflaged by wrapping paper painted to simulate dismal, dank rock or having the approach at a stairbase. Important to remember is that stooping to enter, climbing up or down make the guests lose their sense of direction.

Naturally, the "alley" will be darkened—a green light is preferable at the entrance for effect. Also, a touch of luminous paint around the edges of the doorway or anything paintable inside lends lends an extra eerie look.

Inside, the alley might be marked with a "ghost line," a series of cardboard footsteps covered with luminous paint and stuck to the floor or a waist high rope or string, which must always be held and followed.

Just after the entrance—or any place where the "victims" must stoop, place a mirror lit with diffused blue light, so that when they start to raise up, they come face to face with . . . themselves!

SOUND EFFECTS

Sound effects, of course, are most necessary and may run the gamut from anguished screams, wild yells and cackling laughter (from cooperating friends) to clanking chains, the latter achieved with metal inside a garbage can, horseshoes or the like. Also, a rosined string fastened to the end of a tin can emits horriflying noises when pulled through thumb and forefinger.

Here is another job for your fearless and intrepid assistants.

Their hideous faces (made up with zinc oxide or masked) can be exposed terrifyingly when they hold blue cellophane covered flashlights toward them. Especially awful faces can be created by pulling on a nylon stocking, thus flattening nose and ears.

'SPIDER ROAD'

"Spider road" can be done by decorating the walls with various sized spiders grouped in separate webs, the latter made from luminous wet strips of rag or threads suspended from the ceiling.

Another unusual sensation (really awesome in darkness) is the teeter totter made from an old door nailed to a 6 inch by 6 inch block of wood off center so the end toward the victim rests on the floor. When said victim crosses the center, the door will reverse and drop him six inches.

In the same vein, two or three mattresses placed end to end form a wobbly and uncertain path . . . this is also a good entrance walk to the "Bodyless Byway," a section which will bring victims face to face with a grotto of hanging heads.

LUMINOUS BALLOONS

The hads are luminously painted balloons of varying sizes, suspended from the ceiling at varying heights.

Then there's Ghost Alley's side show. If you have an old worn-out card table or something similar, cut a hole in the top, then seat a man underneath it with his head poked through. Cover the table, draping the sides to conceal his body, and place a cardboard plate around his head, garnishing it with salad greens . . . a delectable dish.

As an added attraction, the table can be set with all the glitter possible and lighted with candles. Seated at it are ghosts or goblins, who chat pleasantly with the "centerpiece." For still more effect, while victims are engrossed with this apparition, have some one touch an ice cube to them.

'GOBLIN HOUSE'

And for the hardiest, there is "Goblin House," where all guests are seated in a circle while some one in the center tells an anatomical tale, which might contain:

"The first affray t'was goblins gay. And staunch I stood but still at bay, while toe and toe they tore away. Pass my toes!" Whereupon, a handful of very stubby carrots make the rounds, passed from listener to listener.

Continuing, there are ears (dried peaches or apricots) . . . hair

Newlyweds Currently on Hawaiian Honeymoon:

Saturday Afternoon Ceremony at St. Pius Unites Maryon Davies and Daniel H. Lewis

Maryon Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Davies of Woodside, terminated her membership in the Spinsters late Saturday afternoon when she exchanged marriage vows with Daniel Harbert Lewis.

St. Pius Catholic church on Woodside road, setting for the nuptials, was amassed with white chrysanthemums and maidenhair ferns, while garlands of ivy marked the pews.

The pretty brunette bride was preceded down the aisle by ten white-frocked attendants including Mrs. A. Crawford Green Jr. (Daphne Dibble), matron of honor, Ellen Davies, her sister, maid of honor, Alice Davies, her youngest sister, Hope Hardy of Little Rock, Arkansas, Mrs. Elmer Samson, Mrs. Michael Tobin, Mrs. Peter Hately, Mrs. Sterling Edwards, Mrs. Samuel Wright Jr. and Mrs. Ann London Tufts, secondary attendants.

YOUNGEST ATTENDANTS

Linda Hooper, 7, daughter of the Frank Hoopers, and "Ford" (Crawford) Greene III, 2½, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Both the honor and secondary bridesmaids wore bouffant princess styled brocade frocks, matched with headbands of the same material twined with silken ivy leaves.

Their old fashioned bouquets, also identical, were made of all white flowers accented with green ivy.

BRIDAL GOWN

The bride herself was radiant in a gown of pure silk taffeta iced with Alencon lace. Lace was also used to scallop the neckline and to adorn the front of the wide skirt, ending in back with a looped bustle which formed a cascading panel over the cathedral train.

A tiny cap of taffeta and lace secured her veil, while sprays of lily of the valley marked the prayer book which she carried.

As her "something old," the bride wore a string of pearls lent by Bertrande Benoist, whose illness had prevented her from serving in the bridal party.

BEST MAN

Robert Phillips took over best man duties for the bridegroom, whose parents are Admiral Leverett Shephard Lewis (USN ret'd) of Los Gatos and the late Lucy Ray Lewis.

Uhers were James Phillips, James McClatchy, Jack Quinlan, David Dibble, William Muller, A. Crawford Greene Jr., Fritz Grau, Frederick Knoop, John Mackay and James Vaughn.

The color theme of green and white was repeated in the gardens of the Davies home, which served as the reception backdrop.

ALL-WHITE BEDS

Beds of flowering which stock, delphinium and chrysanthemums contrasted with the green of the lawn, while decorating the hedge were garlands of ivy spiced with clusters of white carnations.

The receiving line was formed under the spreading branches of an oak tree.

When the newlyweds return from their honeymoon to the Hawaiian Islands, the benedict will resume his career at a San Francisco advertising agency.

Roger Haug Claimed Bride In September

Roger Haug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Haug, formerly of 2165 Euclid avenue, claimed Doris Hohn of Palo Alto and Oakland as his bride in Reno on September 25, the exchange of vows taking place in the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

This Sunday his parents, who make their home at 1611 Castelleja avenue in Palo Alto, were hosts at a wedding reception with friends and relatives attending. The wedding cake was baked by his brother Lowell Haug.

Roger also has two other brothers. Marshall Haug and his family live in East Palo Alto. Dean Haug is city manager of Mountain View.

Doris is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tietjen of Oakland. She has a brother Fred and sister Eleanor, both of Oakland.

The young couple have settled in Palo Alto. The bride is employed by the Palo Alto Drug store and Roger works for Pacific Gas and Electric in Redwood City.

SATURDAY BAZAAR

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 1475 Edgewood road, Redwood City, is holding its annual Relief Society bazaar from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday at the church. Booths, many for handmade gift items, and movies for children will be offered.

'Harvest Whirl' Set For Saturday Night

Saturday evening marks the date for "Harvest Whirl," the dance planned by members of Job's Daughters, Bethel 242 of Menlo Park.

The affair, first dance of fall to be sponsored by the group, will take place at the Menlo Park fraternal building, 645 Roble avenue. Couples will wear "dressy sport" clothes and dance to the music of a five piece orchestra.

The 8 p.m. party is open to all young people of the community, according to Mary Kispert, arrangements chairman.

LOS ALTOS Union church Village Fair takes place today from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the church hall, San Antonio road and Third streets.

AAUW roster this year includes the name of Mrs. John Kneeland.

NEW to AAUW this year is Mrs. Herbert E. Clattenburg.

Through Champagne Bubbles Localites See End of An Era

By PROXY

Traditionally, the champagne and other spirits flow and good wishes are rampant when a business OPENS. Then too, are the many who attend the party for the free spread and they generally include a majority of persons who care little about the thought behind the whing-ding.

That's what made the gathering Saturday late-afternoon-into-evening at the Menlo Meat Market unique, to say the least.

Instead of honoring the opening of a business, a good-sized group of soon to be displaced customers of many years trouped in bearing bottles of champagne (and other high spirits) and hors d'ouerves, orchids and gifts to surprise the shop's two lady butchers, sisters Marguerite (Mrs. Harry B.) Doughty and Dorothy Redding.

Because after being in business since 1915, the shop was closing.

Everyone of those present was a good friend—and they represented others who weren't able to join in the festivities. Sparkplug was Mrs. George (Acky) Ackerman.

On hand to enjoy the honor paid their sisters were Susan and Walter Gale and various other members of the family, including Mrs. Redding's daughter Janie. (The evening before, incidentally, Mrs. Clarence Musto had entertained the two sisters at dinner).

The party had been a complete surprise to the sisters—Dorothy Redding, upon seeing the tremendous influx of men and women, had first told them that it would be impossible to fill all their orders—then came the party.

For all of the fun and hub-bub, which included the popping of corks and the flash of a camera (called in at the last moment and paid for by repeated chipping in when anyone decided that this or that shot just must be taken) there was a wistful quality to the gathering. For an era had passed; no longer would the matrons be able to visit at the shop with one another while they looked over the big pieces of beef, etc., and choose their own cuts. No more the fun of seeing that special-occasion two-inch steak cut to order.

As one long-time patroness ("Pan" Brunning) said, "I've been a customer since 1923 when I moved down the peninsula from the City—after 23 years where can I go?"

There was one group of Atherton women who, in a last ditch effort to save the source of the mainstay of their tables, offered to volunteer a day a week, working at the shop.

An end of an era, and local cooks, young and old, will miss it, for sure. Raise the glass and see the bubbles rise and break and toast andother bit of old Menlo as it passes on.

Camp Woodhaven Boasts Another Successful Year

Girl Scout Camp Woodhaven tucked another successful year under tis belt this summer, with a total of 285 Intermediates and 19 Seniors attending during one of the three sesssions.

Camp Two Sentinels attracted 90 area Girl Scouts and three counselors-in-training, while 7 Scouts and 2 counselors-in-trainig traveled to Camp Sonora.

Willow PTA Slates Talk on Curriculum

Parents who attend next Wednesday night's Willow school PTA meeting will learn what subjects their children will be taught during the ensuing year.

The curriculum discussion will follow a short 8 p.m. business meeting in the multi-purpose room. Teachers in the various grade levels will adjourn to assigned classrooms following the business session in order to meet with parents of their children.

Winning class in the PTA membership contest will be announced—to date, reports indicate that the drive has resulted in more PTA members than ever before, with several classes reaching the 100 per cent participation mark.

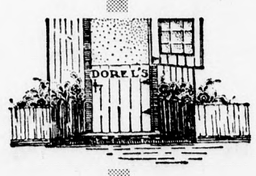

Sue True is Chairman For Gamma Alpha Chi

Gamma Alpha Chi, the women's national advertising honorary society, has elected Sue True of Menlo Park as program chairman.

Sue, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. True, 1815 Bay Laurel drive, is a sophomore major in journalism at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

High School PTA Membership Drive This Month To Help Bleacher Fund

There's an incentive this year for parents of 2000 Menlo-Atherton high school students to join the parent-teacher assiciation, since all money in the membership pool over $600 goes toward the school Bleacher Fund.

This spring the Sequoia Union High School District Board of Trustees granted permission to interested persons and students at Menlo-Atherton to raise funds for bleachers in the school gym.

Although bleachers were designated in the original building plan, the board of trustees felt since two successive bond issues had been defeated, they had received a mandate from the voters. Therefore, they decided that no further expenditures should be made in the district for anything but bare essentials.

And since the gym in the future high schools will not even have space for bleachers, M-A, Sequoia and Carlmont (which is in the same bleacher-less state as M-AHS) will be the only high schools in the area where spectator seating will be allowed.

In the face of this dilemma, the students, staff, PTA and interested members of the community have decided to make a joint project of raising funds for the bleachers.

Joining the PTA is the first step toward helping.

The second step is to pick up a Christmas Tree ticket.

The Menlo Park Kiwanis club and Menlo-Atherton Optimists are distributing for sale one dollar tickets representing the down payment on any tree purchased at the Kiwanis-Optimist lot from December 1 through December 23.

50 CENTS

Fifty cents of each dollar goes toward the Bleacher Fund and an additional 25 per cent of anything over last year's profit will also be added.

To have your name inscribed in M-A's gym, either buy a subscription seat for $14 (refer to Mrs. William Miller, 785 Olive street, DA 3-6900) or sell 28 Christmas Tree tickets.

MENLO - ATHERTON branch welcomes Mrs. Le Grand A. Gould as a new member.

RAVENSWOOD district Girl Scout leaders will gather on Wednesday at Mrs. Roy Hurlburt's home, 1359 Hollyburne avenue for a 1 p.m. meeting.

Mrs. Mills, Daughter Cast in Hostess Roles

"Amogawr," which means "a shelter" in Welsh is the name given by the late Edward Mills to the lovely home located on Manzanita road, where Mrs. Mills and her daughter Gwladys live during the summer months and winter weekends.

The lawns extend to the far end of the property, with a driving and putting green on the upper terrace. The grounds resemble a small British estate, boasting beautifully kept hedges and carpets of lawn.

The large patio on the south was the sunny summer scene for a party entertaining city friends.

SUNDAY BUFFET

Last Sunday, however, Mrs. Mills and her daughter gave a buffet to welcome Colonel and Mrs. Stewart Miller, who have bought a home near the Menlo Country club.

Their neighbors, the D. J. Tights and the King Parkers were there, as well as the hostess' other daughter, Dodie, with her husband Fred. Dodie and Fred, their children, Freddie and Diane, all live in Atherton.

Other guests were the Garton Keystons, who are old friends of the Millers and who are, by the way, having a dinner themselves on the 29th in their home on Woodside road.

JOHN BROOKES'

Gerry and John Brookes were there, too; they also had been hosts to a large group the preceding Sunday at their Whisky Hill road place. Recently returned from a trip south, the Warrington Dorsts were chatting with Marshall Dill, who is now living in town.

Also from town was Mrs. Walter Boardman, who late last week presided over a dinner at the Menlo Country club with the Keystons, inviting the group in for cocktails before.

Miss Janet Coleman, who always comes from New York each year, staying at the Country club, and who is traditional honor guest when the Waldo Colemans give their annual cocktail affair, will herself hostess a farewell cocktail party next week at the Colemans' family home on California street.

Also great friends of the Mills are Mr. and Mrs. S. Wright Moncure, getting ready to join forces with George Mahoney for a Bohemian club party November 1.

* * *

Several celebrations are in the wind for Big Game Day . . . the Porter Sesnons, Henry Cartans and Henry Wade with his son, John, will entertain thusly at their Park lane home.

The Sesnon residence, incidentally, is one of the show places in Atherton.

The house, an Italian palazzo, was done by the late Clarence Tantau, and is an architectural gem. Some of the large bronzes in the house belonged to Mr. Sesnon's mother (nee Porter) and had been stored in the Santa Cruz house which they still own.

SESNON GARDENS

The gardens with many horticultural curiosities have been redone by Thomas Church and recently were the setting for the marriage of their eldest daughter, Nell. At that time, floral pieces and lighted torches pinpointed the pavillion and bath houses around the pool.

Mr. Sesnon, besides owning a large cattle ranch in Nevada, is president of the board of directors of the Cow Palace and also of the AAA.

They have four children; the two oldest sons, Porter and Nell are married and Mary Sue and John Boit are still at school.

G-HOSTS . . .

(steel wool) . . . eyes (peeled grapes) . . . tongue (pickle slice) . . . teeth (kernels of dried corn) . . . head (cabbage) . . . brain (wet sponge) . . . hands (gloves filled with ice and sawdust) . . . bones (assortment of soup bones).

FORTUNE TELLING

For something less grisly, have one of your aides dress as a fortune telling witch . . . fortunes may be augered in several different ways.

For instance, half fill a kettle with sawdust or paper and stir in an assortment of articles which are meaningful, such as a coin-wealth; ring-romance; envelope-letter; small horseshoe, etc.-luck; thimble - handiwork; car-travel; medal-fame.

Or write fortunes either in lemon juice or milk on bits of paper; the writing comes to light when held over candles.

Fortunes can also be inserted in gelatin capsules or frozen into orange popsicles for the young fry, ice cubes for the older set.

For more facts, ideas and illustrations, Mrs. Thompson's party file is housed at the recreation office in Burgess park.

Costano PTA Pow-Wow Set For Saturday

Smoke signals and Indian war whoops reminiscent of the Indians who once resided in University Village, will be sent out this Saturday at 11 a.m. to call one and all to the Costano Pow-Wow, which will be held on Costano school grounds.

The pow-wow, or carnival, will be the first major fund raising event sponsored by the Costano PTA since it organization last spring.

It will feature free entertainment, special sales, refreshments of varied sorts and games of skill for young and old alike.

In the entertainment field "Buckskin Bob", KQED's history spinning, guitar playing, folk-singing performer will present a half hour show at 1:30 p.m.

Immediately following his show an auction of "White elephant" items will be held. Articles such as coffeetables, lawn mower, iron, and chaise lounge, have been donated by members and will be sold to the highest bidder by auctioneer George Stephens.

At 3:30 p.m. the Ravenswood Recreation Association's famed trampoline team will present a show.

Throughout the day Bryan Jones, a Stanford law student, will present 15 minute magician shows.

Special sales will include a monkey tree loaded with soft cuddly sox monkeys and home baked goods.

Ten different games of skill are being offered—among them gold fish toss, bean bag toss, ring toss, basketball throw, 'ole fishin' hole, and other varied games. Unique prizes will be available to all as 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes are being offered to winners, as well as a consolation prize to the losers.

Refreshments such as hot dogs, soda pop, popcorn, coffee and ice cream will be available.

Junior Women To Get Foretaste of Dinner

There's no doubt that several families in East Palo Alto and surrounding area will be eating a lot of spaghetti between now and November 5, for early this month the chairman, Mrs. David Zerga, distributed the famous spaghetti sauce recipe to fellow members of the East Palo Alto Junior Women's club.

This sauce "what am" has served to make the annual Spaghetti Dinner of the club a loaded-to-capacity affair every time for the past 16 years.

Final plans for the dinner which will be held from 6 p.m. on in the women's clubhouse, Bay road at Oakwood drive, on Saturday, November 5, will be made at the next junior's meeting tonight, Mrs. Zerga said.

TEMPLE BETH-EL FETE

Cottons and jeans will prevail at Saturday night's pot luck supper and dance planned by the Sisterhood of the Peninsula Temple Beth-El. Localites are invited to attende the 6:30 p.m. party; admission price is a salad, casserole or dessert to serve six or eight.

At October 26 Meeting:

Republican Women of Area To Hear of Hoover Commission

Harvey Hancock, western regional director of the Citizens committee for the Hoover Report, will be guest speaker at next Wednesday's general meeting of the South San Mateo county council of Republican Women.

For the 1:30 p.m. meeting, to be held in Menlo Park council chambers, Mr. Hancock has chosen to speak on "The Citizen's Stake in the Hoover Commission Report."

A public relations consultant, Mr. Hancock has been representing Pan American World Airways in the Far East and Orient, with emphasis on rebuilding aviation relations following World War II. Before this, he was the managing editor of the Salt Lake City Tribune-Telegram and assistant president of United Air Lines.

After the meeting tea will be served by hostesses Mrs. Theodore Blake, South county council president, Mrs. Fred Pfaff, Mrs. Grace Denton, Mrs. H. E. Hallet, Mrs. Frank M. Shaw, Mrs. Henry Mayfarth and Mrs. W. P. Gulick.

South county council, in cooperation with the San Mateo county council of Republican Women and Pro America, are sponsoring a dinner November 8, at 7 p.m. in the San Mateo Elks club, honoring Ronald Button, national committeeman from California.

Tickets for the dinner are available in this area from either Mrs. A. B. Blakely, EM 6-7796, or Mrs. A. A. Hedge, DA 2-8481.

More than 100 Republican women have signed safe driving pledges sponsored by the Teamsters Green Cross Safety Crusade.

Harold E. Simptons Home from Hawaii

The Harold E. Simptons of Sherwood way are still cherishing memories of their recent trip to Hawaii, from which they returned the early part of the month.

During their three week's vacation, which started on board the Lurline, the Simptons headquartered at the Surfrider hotel, spring board for many tours on the surrounding islands and points of interest.

SOJOURNING lately at Del Monte lodge, Pebble Beach, was a foursome made up of the William O. Felkners and the J. Denny Nelsons, the latter from San Francisco.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Jo Booth DA 3-1909

Button, button, who's got the button? Or maybe, more appropriate, party, party, who gave the party? For the answer to this and many other questions, consult your handy—we mean, just continue reading!

As an illustration, suppose we take Sue Barron's, given in honor of Carol Lofgren's birthday!

Carol, supposedly en route for a show, was picked up by Sue White, and told that they had to pick up Sue Barron, too. After honking a few times, both got out to "hurry her up"—but little did Carol know that her friends were lurking in the rumpus room! Anyway, all gave one big yell — and there's the end! (of the paragraph, that is, not of the party!)

After presenting Carol with gifts, including lipsticks, and a surprise present to be given later to her, the evening got off to a bouncing start with eating, records and talking until four a.m. (oh yes — this was a slumber party, too).

All arose, however, for a hearty meal of coffee and snails before wending their way homeward.

Tired but content were Pat Hedge, Sarita Steinberg, Carol Keller, Marcia Staples, Sue Chase, Kathy Farnsworth, Gail Davis, Sue Estberg and Fran Feiten.

* * *

Seen at Stanford Homecoming watching the parade, getting cold etc., were Sally Davenport, Nancy Van Artsdale, Helen Burgess, Diane Ackerman, Karen Hillman, Pat Christian, Rae Marston, Judy Brown and Dottie Cook, and marching in the parade were the M-A band and majorettes. (No, we are not going to name all the musicians, even if the column is short.)

* * *

Skating may seem very easy from a distance when the Ice Follies do it, but when you get down to brass tacks, or rather hard ice, it's a bit harder!

This little bit of philosophy was quickly discovered by Jane Marsh and her guests of the evening! Diane Mazonas, Sue Lockman, Mary Coolidge, Gail Morrison and Jenny Bartells accompanied Jane to Sutro's, then all came back for a huge turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Afterward, they presented her with birthday presents and talked the evening away.

* * *

Casey may have waltzed with a strawberry blond, but afterward he probably had quite a time deciding where to take her. This problem might have been solved, thoug, by doing just what these two groups did do!

Over at Gordon and Marge Plaisted's, eating hamburgers and chatting, were Mickey Pierce, Connie Kent, Al Sundquist and Jill Kudlick.

At Ann Bartell's, devouring the last of a birthday cake, plus ice cream and soft drinks, and listening to records, were Gary Bolton, Sheila Gray, Fred Stark, Garth Stevick, Lynne Mokler and Jim Woodcock.

* * *

Planning for dances seems to be in the wind now! Organizing the activities to be given by the JUGS, MAGS and Entre-Noos Tri-Ys, after the homecoming, were Diane Sullivan, Rhoda Maxfield, Jill Kudlick, Nancy McDowell, Barbara de Angeles, Barbara Beise and Sally Seaver at Yvonne Layne's home.

At Marge Plaisted's house, Tony Thoonan, Barbara Beise, Mary Kispert and Janet Buckthal were busily working on bids for the Job's Daughters dance, the Harvest Twirl, coming up soon.

* * *

Some like peddlepushers, some like shorts — but the guests at Stew Morton's the other day, whether they liked the former or the latter, all had to wear Bermuda shorts!

Dancing, playing the piano, playing tennis and eating were Jacque Cook, Jo Broeren, Sally Flanagan, Carolyn Gerbo, Barbara Stellman, Sue Samuels, Cri sCochrane, Bernice Harrison, Sharon Moore, Gerrie Keely, Darcy Metcalf, Barbara Boucke, Jim Bishop, Bud Varty, Gary Grider, Gene Smith, Fred Stark, Jim Woodcock.

Dave Robertson, Howie Anawalt, Paul Clarkson, Carol Blake, Gary Bolton, Duane Starnes, Dennis Brown, B. J. Russell, Gary Cook, Don DeFeo, Mike Tielmans, Greig Gowdy, Chuck Holland, Jim Angelo, Sue Holt, Alice Taylor and Lynne Mokler.

Advice to ambitious people — Keep you eye on the ball, your feet on "terra firma," your nose to the grindstone and your ear to the ground—and then try to work in that position!

Jewish Women to Observe UN Birthday October 26

Next Wednesday's meeting of the California Peninsula section, National council of Jewish Women, will take the form of a chafing dish luncheon honoring the United Nations anniversary.

Peninsula Temple Beth El, San Matdeo, will be the setting; 12 noon, the time; and a treasure for the group's December 3 "Holiday Time" gift mart, the entrance fee.

Among members assisting refreshments chairman, Mrs. Elliott Sherr, are Mrs. Halmar Andre and Mrs. Irwin Hirsch of Atherton. Localites who are interested in the activities of the council are urged to call the south peninsula membership chairman, Mrs. Marvin Frank of Menlo Park, DA 5-5150.

Mrs. David Ross To Attend Session In Hollywood

Mrs. David Ross of Atherton is one of several members of the Assistance League of San Mateo county who will travel to Hollywood next week for Wednesday's Council of National Assistance League annual meeting.

Others representing the county group are Mrs. Horace O'Keefe of San Mateo, president, Mrs. Edward Becker, San Mateo, Mrs. William G. Horn, Burlingame, and Mrs. John Riordan Jr., San Mateo.

Mrs. Riordan, by the way, has been nominated for treasurer of the national council, election of officers slated for October 26. A past president of the county league, Mrs. Riordan is proud of her organization which, although the newest, is the only group organized thus far in Northern California to have been accepted into the parent National Assistance League.

Deep peninsula residents on the active roster of members include Mrs. W. Noel Eldred, Mrs. Paul Lorton, Mrs. Robert S. Norris and Mrs. Ross, from Atherton, Mrs. Sidney Liebes and Mrs. Herman Smith, Woodside.

'Pajama Game' Motif For Jobs Daughters

"Pajama Game" is the theme for visiting Bethel night at the Palo Alto Job's Daughters, Bethel 234, Saturday, at the Masonic hall, Florence and University avenues in Palo Alto.

According to Honored Queen Claudia Stevens, the visiting girls are asked to bring their teddy bears to the 7:30 p.m. affair, with lots of fun in store for them. All Bethels are invited to attend.

Sunday, October 23, is "Go to Church Sunday" for Job's Daughters. Bethel 234 will take part in services at St. Peter's Church in Redwood City.

Unitarian Alliance Announces Bazaar

The Palo Alto Unitarian Women's alliance has announced that its Christmas Bazaar will be held this year on November 12 at the Palo Alto Women's clubhouse, corner of Homer and Cowper streets.

A silver tea will be served from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., while the bazaar itself will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Openings Still Remain In Co-op Dance Class

Openings still remain in the beginning adult class in comtemporary dance held at 10 a.m. each Monday in Union hall, 3065 Middlefield road, Palo Alto.

Localites may obtain further information on the class, which is maintained on a cooperative basis with Jenny Hunter Groat as teacher, by calling Mrs. Howard Frazee WH 8-4506.

MRS. John Driscoll will hostess the AAUW evening bridge group today.

Little House:

Birthday Party, "UN" Talk Highlight Agenda This Week

United Nations Week will keynote today's 2:15 p. m. program at Little House, which will feature a talk by Benjamin Seaver, peace education secretary of the Northern California region of the American Friends Service committee.

Choosing as his topic, "The Future of the United Nations," Mr. Seaver will stress the extreme importance of the present disarmament negotiations now going on through the UN.

The speaker headed the Friends' Seminar held during the tenth anniversary celebration in San Francisco.

Because of the October 26-27-28 trip to Yosemite, the regular monthly supper and full length feature film was held yesterday instead.

* * *

The three-day trip will be taken on vista-dome buses, scheduled to leave Little House at 8 a.m. October 26, returning Friday evening, October 28. The group will stay at Yosemite lodge, while the conducted tour will take it to Glacier Point, the Big Trees, Wawona and Bridal Veil falls.

* * *

Also moved up because of the Yosemite trip is the monthly birthday party, which will take place at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Regular events at the center for the following week are:

TODAY—3:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. housing and employment counseling; 10 a.m. flower ceramics class; 10:30 a.m. party favors instruction; 2:15 p.m. program.

TOMORROW—9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. housing and employment counseling; 10 a.m. painting class; 10 a.m. weaving instruction; 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. bazaar crafts class; 1 p.m. ceramics class; 2 p.m. chess session; 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. social security and retirement insurance counseling; 7 p.m. dessert birthday party.

SATURDAY—2 p.m. pinochle and checkers; 7:30 p.m. dancing party. SUNDAY—1 p.m. to 5 p.m. open house.

MONDAY—9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. housing and employment counseling; 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. dressmaking class; 10 a.m. specialty sewing; 1 p.m. ceramics class; 1 p.m. bazaar crafts class; 7:30 p.m. square and folk dance instruction—crafts class; 8 p.m. Garden club section on flower arranging.

TUESDAY—9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. housing and employment counseling; 9:30 a.m. leather craft class; 10 a.m. party favors instruction; 10 a.m. weaving; 1 p.m. painting class; 1 p.m. bazaar sewing; 2 p.m. chess session; 3 p.m. conversational Spanish class; 7 p.m. bridge and canasta.

WEDNESDAY—8 a.m. buses leave for Yosemite; 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. housing and employment counseling; 10 a.m. to 12 noon gift wrapping class; 12:15 p.m. pot luck luncheon and cards; 1 p.m. supervised bridge instruction; 1 p.m. lapidary class.

Open to all men and women 50 years of age or more, Little House is a service and recreation center sponsored by the Peninsula Volunteers Inc. For further information, call DA 3-1787.

SIGMA KAPPA alumnae are holding their first fall meeting today, a 1 p.m. dessert at the home of Mrs. Walton Dismukes, 1530 Escobita avenue, Palo Alto. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Charles E. Fagg at DA 2-7022.

Auxiliary's Sale Goes into Final Stretch Today

There is still one day remaining—today—in the annual sale given by members of the Senior auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent home.

Here, Christmas gift shoppers will find several new departments planned for them such as Mrs. William D. Pabst's booth featuring dolls that have been reassembled, reconditioned and dressed by Mrs. E. Rene Leroy, president of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Selah Chamberlain has charge of another section handling almost-new toys of all kinds donated by leading stores in San Francisco and on the Peninsula. In addition, special groups will also be set aside in the art, china, clothing, furniture and book departments for undamaged merchandise.

The sale is being held at the All Saints parish house, Hamilton avenue near Waverly street in Palo Alto. Proceeds go toward meeting increased costs at the Stanford Convalescent home.

Josephine Emmons Christened Here

At a ceremony conducted October 2 at St. Pius church, Josephone Humphrey Emmons, first daughter of the Robert Emmons (Josephine Humphrey) of Woodside, received her name and her godparents.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Cummins of St. Catherine's church in Burlingame, who married the Cummins', also conducted the christening, assisted by Rev. Michael Fitzsimons.

Mrs. Jane Humphrey Young of Honolulu, maternal aunt, and Miss Anita Truman, paternal great-aunt, are the baby's godmothers. Robin Folsom is godfather. Grandparents of young Josephine (who was born August 22) are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey and the late Mrs. Lucille Emmons.

Westminster Women

Mrs. William Grove will review the latest Oren Meeker book today when the Westminster Women of Menlo Park Presbyterian church hold their regular luncheon meeting.

Members are also advised of the talent table, which is open at every luncheon for the purchase of hand made items suitable for gifts. Articles on the table are made and donated by women of the church.

Girl Scouts Elect Officers For New Year

Members of Oak Knoll Girl Scout Troop 43 have announced new officers, who include Judy Klein, president; Barbara Blagen, vice president; Kaylee Hankland, secretary and Janet Eldridge, treasurer.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. S. Rossiter and Mrs. Gerald Blagen, while assisting the various patrols toward work on their badges are Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Bryson and Mrs. Garcia.

* * *

Brownie Troop 437 members, also of Oak Knoll school, have launched their fall program with a visit to the Hoover Tower and chapel on Stanford campus, and are about to start a service project for the San Mateo county T.B. Sanatorium.

Led by Mrs. Helen Blagen and Mrs. R. Gocke, the troop boasts two new members this year, Kathy Salz and Sally Richards.

* * *

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard Bentley and Mrs. Richard Bremer, Troop 162 held their election of officers recently, with Vickie Bentley becoming chairman; Renee Chaput, vice chairman; Donna King and Sharon Lea, patrol leaders, assisted by Carol Mitchell and Wendy Lea; Gill Chadwick, treasurer and Sue Jane Bremer, scribe.

Linda Abrott, Claudia Claussen, Ann Fehring and Susan Meyers, in addition to the girls named above, are currently working on their tennis badge supervised by Mrs. John Chadwick.

Junior League Announces Area Get-Togethers

An unusual general meeting has been planned tomorrow for all members of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.

Choosing the theme, "Let's Discuss Ourselves," League members will attend special 10:30 a.m. meetings in their own neighborhoods, with the three in this area expected to draw some 30 participants apiece.

In addition to sharing views on the League, members will hear a progress report at each meeting on the forthcoming production, "The Forward Look," the League musical comedy sponsored by Chrysler corporation.

Deep peninsula sessions, for Palo Alto unit Leaguers, will be held at the homes of Mrs. Norman Richard Anderson, 605 Oak Knoll lane, Menlo Park; Mrs. George A. Ditz Jr., 26480 Arastradero, Los Altos, and Mrs. Peter S. Monteith, 135 Doherty way, Atherton.

Delta Zeta Alumnae To Honor UC Pledges

Lynn Williamson of Woodside and 21 other new pledges of Mu chapter, Delta Zeta, will be guest of honor Sunday, November 13, at a party.

The 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. affair was planned to promote close association between the alumnae and active members of the University of California chapter. Hostess for the occasion is Theta group of the Bay Cities Alumnae association and locale is Gayle Hamilton's Berkeley home, 815 Contra Costa avenue.

John J. Kellys New Residents

Residents of the 700 block of Menlo avenue have had new neighbors since September 4, the John J. Kellys and their two daughters, Cristine, who attends Convent of the Sacred Heart, and Patricia, 3.

The Kellys, 760 Menlo avenue, have come to Menlo Park from Ligonier, Pennsylvania; Mr. Kelly's new post is with Stanford Research Institute.

Women's Mission Society

Women's Mission society of Menlo Park Baptist church will hold its general meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the church parlor.

Girls from the Fellowship guild are special guests for the evening, and will take part in a Commitment service for the Guild.

GIRL SCOUT calendar sales are slated for November 10-December 1.

Mary Durrant Invested In October 8 Ceremony

Mary Durrant of Menlo Park was one of the 64 freshmen at College of Notre Dame, Belmont, to be invested in academic dress at the annual capping ceremony October 8.

After having received their caps, the members of the group recited the college pledge, each student holding a lighted candle presented by the ASCND officers, who had assisted in the ceremony.
